ALBERTA FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL

CUT IN ALL LAND VALUES ORDERED

Court of Revision Makes Blanket Reduction of Five Per Cent Covering Whole City for 1924

WILL TAKE MILLION AND HALF OFF ROLL

Adjustments on Individual Parcels Means Another Half Million Off—Lowest Total in Many Years

A BLANKET reduction of five per cent in the taxation of land in the city for 1924 was decided upon by the Civic Court of Revision yesterday.

The total value of land as shown on the 1924 roll laid before the Court was thirty-three million dollars, but since the body commenced its sessions about half a million dollars had been lopped off through reductions in individual properties in various parts of the city.

The five per cent cut on all land will take off another million and a half. This will bring the land assessment total down to thirty-one million dollars, the lowest point reached in at least the last twelve years.

There is no general cut in the improvement valuations. It is estimated that the blanket reduction, combined with the cuts ordered on individual parcels, will require the making of over fifty thousand changes in the records of the Assessor's office. In view of the increased work the Court of Revision asked the Council last night to permit further assistance to be secured in the Assessor's office, and the request was granted.

While there was a cut made over the whole city last year the percentage differed for different classes of land.

SOUTH AFRICA WANTS TRADE WITH CANADA

Premier Smuts and Colleague Express Desire to Come Under Recently Passed Preferential Tariff

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A trade treaty between Canada and South Africa is in the air. Today at a conference between Premier King and Hon. George F. Graham, representing Canada, and Premier Smuts and Hon. H. Burton, Finance Minister, representing the South African Union, improvement in the trade relations between the two countries was discussed.

The South Africans expressed a desire to come under the higher preferential tariff on certain dried fruits provided in the legislation passed by the Canadian Parliament last session. It was then understood that the legislation would not become effective until the proposed treaty with Australia was concluded. But the Australian trade treaty was not concluded, and the increased duty did not come into effect. South Africa, however, is anxious to take advantage of the new preferential rate on dried fruits whether Australia proposes to do so or not, and has intimated her willingness to give Canada some reciprocal advantage in the South African market.

Today's conference did not reach the stage of definite proposals for a trade treaty, although it is hoped that such will be the ultimate outcome.

MR. ASQUITH ATTACKS PROTECTION POLICY

Former Premier Declares Proposed Imperial Preference Scheme a Hollow Sham

DEWBURY, England, Nov. 5.—Former Premier H. H. Asquith, leader of the Independent Liberals, speaking here tonight, attacked the Government's protection policy and twitted Premier Baldwin and Lord Derby, Secretary for War, with being "open minders."

It looked as if the country, continued Mr. Asquith, was about to witness the evolution of a new type, which if he might borrow a term from the woolen industry, one might call without offence the cross-bred free traders. So far as he could gather, the new policy had two avowed objects, viz: To fight unemployment and to develop and cement the unity of the Empire.

Mr. Asquith proceeded to deal with these proposals, revealing the second for a second speech, asserting only that an Imperial preference which did not extend either to food or raw materials, was nothing but a hollow sham.

MINISTER DETAINED

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Hon. George F. Graham, who has booked passage on the Rangoon for Calcutta, saying Friday, may not be able to leave until a few days later. Settlement of the cattle embargo difficulties is still to be arranged.

SAYS MOVIE TICKETS MUST COST MORE AND STARS' SALARIES LESS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—Salaries of motion picture actors must come down and the price of admission to motion picture theatres must go up before the film industry will be on a stable basis, Joseph M. Schenck, film producer, said here today.

"Just as surely as salaries went up," said Mr. Schenck, "they must now come down."

Mr. Schenck explained that while no definite plan of action has been mapped out for the reduction of salaries, the campaign against exorbitant remuneration probably would consist essentially in an agreement amongst producers not to bid against one another for the services of a particular actor or actress.

Theatre admission prices must be advanced sufficiently, he said, "to give producers a sane and reasonable return commensurate with their investment and the quality of their pictures."

HON. MR. BUREAU SPENT DAY HERE

MINISTER OF CUSTOMS AND EXCISE HAD BUSY TIME

Visitor in Very Much Taken With Evident Signs of Development in the West

Victoria had as her guest yesterday in the person of Hon. Jacques Bureau one of the most popular members of the House of Commons at Ottawa. Among representatives of both sides of politics he has always been exceedingly well liked, and his uniform good nature makes him friends wherever he is known.

Arriving in the city yesterday morning, he had to confine his stay to one day. He left last night for Vancouver on his return trip to Ottawa.

When seen last evening after a day which he admitted had been well filled with appointments, the Minister of Customs and Excise expressed pleasure at his visit to Victoria and at all he saw here. The city, in common with the rest of the West, was making marked progress, and since his previous visit had developed wonderfully.

Speaking of the argument of the case of the Chamber of Commerce for a customs officer in New York, the Minister said that he was very pleased with the way in which the presentation of the situation had been made, and he congratulated Mr. Schwenger upon the ability displayed.

Asked as to what he thought the outcome of the matter would be, the Minister said that he was not in a position to make any definite statement. It was a matter that would have to be dealt with as a Government proposition. He would take it up upon his arrival at Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Bureau spoke highly of the climatic conditions here, and there was no reason, he felt, why there should not be development very materially along commercial lines.

Visits Drydock

During the day he had an opportunity to visit the new drydock now in course of construction at Esquimalt. This was, he said, a great work, and when completed should be of material benefit to the city. Work was proceeding well, he was glad to see, and in a few days, according to the information given him, the concrete work would be started.

The visit to the West had been made for the purpose of getting in touch with matters affecting his department, and of getting acquainted with the officers in the department, so that they might feel that if there was anything that they wished to take up with him they could do so as with one whom they knew. He also felt it was his duty to get in touch with affairs all over the country, so that he was in a better position to appreciate the needs.

Accompanying the Minister on his visit here were Mr. B. R. Parrow, Commissioner of Customs, who has been in the service for forty-two years, and who is paying his first visit to the Coast; William Ide, the Minister's secretary; the Messrs. Coulthie and Polequin, of Three Rivers, Quebec.

During the forenoon the Minister took occasion to visit the Parliament Buildings, where he called on Premier Oliver and other members of the Government in a very informal way.

The afternoon was occupied by hearing the representations of delegations and private callers.

Ku Klux Emperor's Attorney Killed

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 5.—W. R. Coburn, of Atlanta, attorney for the Ku Klux Klan faction of the Ku Klux Klan, was shot and killed in his office here this afternoon by Philip Fox, said to be the editor of The Imperial Night Hawk, a publication of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Coburn was shot five times and toppled over in his chair. The bullets were said to have been fired from the doorway of the office by Fox. The latter was arrested. Fox is quoted as saying to the police:

"I was sorry to have had to do it, but I am glad he is dead. He was planning to ruin me and I had just as soon be hung as hurt."

EXTEND BID TO MR. CHURCHILL

Glasgow Liberals Send Invitation to Former Colonial Secretary to Contest Late Mr. Bonar Law's Seat

SPEAKS TONIGHT TO GLASGOW ELECTORS

Rumored Asquith Wing of Party Will Put Up Candidate in Opposition Should Invitation Be Accepted

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A section of Glasgow Liberals has telegraphed an invitation to Winston Churchill, former Colonial Secretary, to contest the late Bonar Law's seat. It is thought Mr. Churchill is eager to return to the House of Commons. A triangular contest for the vacant seat is anticipated.

It is rumored that if Mr. Churchill is nominated by a section of the Liberals, the Asquith Liberals will put up another nominee.

The Free Traders of Lancashire have decided to invite Lloyd George to address a great demonstration in Free Trade Hall, Manchester, in December. This, following Winston Churchill's visit to Manchester on November 16, will rank as the beginning of the battle in the general election.

Lord Birkenhead was interviewed on his arrival at Southampton on his return from Canada and the United States. He declined to make any statement relative to the political situation. He said to the newspapermen: "I have been with gentlemen of your fraternity for many weeks. They have been very entertaining, and on the whole extraordinarily reliable."

He arrived in Glasgow tonight and tomorrow will deliver an address.

Asks Uniformity in Flying Flags On Armistice Day

LONDON, Nov. 5.—In connection with the Armistice Day celebrations next Sunday, it is the King's desire that uniformity should be observed in flying flags, of which should be flown from the masthead.

On Armistice Day last year some flags were not flown at all, some were half-masted, and others were flown from the masthead. A special service is to be held in Westminster Abbey.

BERLIN DISPATCHES TROOPS TO BAVARIA

Three Regiments Sent to Thuringian Frontier to Aid Police—Appeal to All Republicans

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The Central Government, aroused by the apparently dangerous situation created by the Bavarian Nationalist bands in the Bavarian-Thuringian frontier, has ordered the dispatch of three Baden Reichswehr regiments to the region. These troops will take up positions behind the Thuringian police, with orders to resist to the utmost any attempts by the Bavarian bands to advance.

The Government will also issue an appeal to all Republicans to be prepared to defend the Republic. It is reported that Chancellor Stresemann has been definitely forced to resign on Thursday, the fifth anniversary of the foundation of the Republic.

Estimates of the total strength of the irregular bands on the Bavarian-Thuringian frontier, range from 5,000 to 10,000. The Nationalists are said to be under the supreme command of Captain Ehrhardt, whose "iron brigade" figured in the notorious Kapp Putsch.

SASKATOON, Nov. 5.—George B. Veitch, 21, accountant for the Ad- vance, Rumsey Threshing Company, was found shot dead this afternoon with a .22 rifle lying under his body.

Electors Register Vigorous Protest

Capacity Gathering Resents Elimination of Esquimalt Riding—Mr. R. H. Pooley, M. P. P., Challenges Premier to Deny Matter Has Been Brought Before Government Caucus

OVER one hundred electors of Esquimalt, representative of all shades of political opinion, registered a vigorous and emphatic protest last night at a public indignation meeting, held in the Sailors' Club, against the enforcement of any legislation which would have the effect of eliminating or in any way interfering with the historic constituency of Esquimalt at present constituted.

Mr. R. H. Pooley, member for Esquimalt electoral district in the Provincial Legislature, and Reeve Alex. Lockley championed a resolution to that effect, the motion being endorsed with a dissenting voice and with prolonged cheers.

The gathering was unanimous and enthusiastic in its determination that Esquimalt constituency be included in the new redistribution bill that will shortly be laid before the legislature. All portions of Esquimalt riding were represented at the meeting.

OTTAWA SURPRISED AT RECENT PROSECUTIONS

Deputy Minister Astonished at Action of Provincial Authorities—Reason for Delays

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Surprise was expressed by Mr. E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, today at the action of the British Columbia Provincial authorities in prosecuting a constable and two special agents of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police upon narcotic charges without waiting for a Royal Commission, appointed by the Federal Government, to institute a probe into the case.

They were arrested upon charges of trafficking in narcotics and the Attorney-General asked the Dominion Government to appoint a commission to go thoroughly into the case, Mr. Newcombe explained.

Dominion Premier, Foreign Diplomats and Representatives of Army and Navy Take Part in Ceremonies

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Andrew Bonar Law rests amid England's honored dead in Westminster Abbey. The ashes of the former prime minister, contained in a beautiful urn, were deposited today in the south bay of the great edifice, in the presence of a distinguished company of nearly three hundred persons, including members of the royal family, the Dominion premiers, foreign diplomats, parliamentarians and representatives of the army and navy and the business and financial world.

The minds of many present went back to that former day when Gladstone who ruled for many years as prime minister, was laid to rest in the old Abbey and when the Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward, gave his arm to the widow beside the grave. The service of the Church of England was carried out today without the musical accessories arranged for Gladstone's funeral.

The service was conducted by the Dean of Westminster, the Right Rev. Herbert Edward Ryle, and precentor. The Archbishop of Canterbury, head of the church, pronounced the blessing.

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—Gratitude for sympathy extended to a number of Canadian soldiers who were prisoners in a German prison camp by Sergeant-Major Willie Hatzmann, enabled him to come to Canada. The soldier, who had been brought to Canada by those he saved from starvation.

Trooper Harry Deacon, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, has been the central figure in this little post-war drama. On receipt of a letter from Hatzmann last Spring, in which he told of his straitened condition, Deacon and others interested in the case came forward with money and sent it to the German cavalryman, enabling him to come to Canada.

"This chap is one of the cleanest, whitest men I ever met, and so say all the others who were in the prison camp with him," said Trooper Deacon. "He was the friend of British soldiers at the time when friendship was needed. He asks only to be allowed to make a living under the wonderful, prosperous conditions in this country compared to the ruin and chaos of his own."

When Mr. Pooley, who officiated as chairman, took the platform, the auditorium of the Sailors' Club was filled, and the crowd extended into the vestibule and steps of the building. Reeve Lockley and Councillors Nicol and Dent supported the chairman on the platform, while Councillor Mesher was in the audience.

The chairman said that he had read that "indignation meeting" was premature. He told the meeting the contents of a letter he had received from the Premier, which intimated that no redistribution bill had been prepared; that when it will be introduced into the House it will be referred to a special committee, before which electors will be able to make representations.

But the Liberal press has broadcasted the fact that it is proposed to eliminate this constituency. It is all right for Premier Oliver to say that the bill has not been prepared, but I am wrong when I say that the bill has been laid before the Government caucus. Now is the time for Esquimalt electors to protest, and today's meeting is the first step.

FOUR OFFICERS HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Toronto Policemen to Stand Trial for Fatally Shooting Alleged Run-Runner

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—A spectacle unprecedented in the annals of criminal procedure was witnessed in the assize court today when four Toronto police officers—Patrol Sergeant William Kerr and Constables William Henry Mitchell, George Fraser and James Anthony Rooney—appeared before Mr. Justice Wright and were each bound over in $5,000 to appear for trial on the charge of manslaughter.

The charge arose out of the fatal shooting of John Gogo, on the run-running schooner Hattie C. on October 6. The coroner's jury which investigated Gogo's death came to the conclusion that the use of firearms in this case was not justified.

SOLDIER MEMBER PLEADS FOR BEER

Major R. J. Burde, M.C., Declares the Present Brewery Product Injurious to Health and Morals

EIGHT-HOUR BILL STRONGLY URGED

Does Not Begrudge Government's Action in Introducing Measure Provided It Will Meet His Views

A PLEA for amendments to the Liquor Act which would permit the sale of beer by the glass; the assertion that the present day so-called beer is nothing but a "concoction of rosin, arsenic and ether," and the claim that present day stool pigeons of the Government might better be employed looking after the conduct of the youthful generation in this Province, were made by Major Richard J. Burde, M.C., Soldier-Independent member for Alberni, in the Legislature yesterday in continuing the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Alberni's member was most critical in his criticisms of the act as now enforced, asserting that the people of the Province are about tired of the existing conditions, and he prophesied that unless some change was made by the Attorney-General, to whom he gave every credit for seeking to enforce an unworkable act, it might be that prohibition would again be seen in this Province.

Major Burde also spoke strongly in favor of an eight-hour law along lines he has advocated for the past four years. He declared it was strange that mills in the State of Washington could operate under such a law, employ whites and pay higher wages than are being paid in British Columbia, and incidentally give employment to many residents of this Province who had been forced to cross the line looking for work.

Minister Adjourns Debate

Hon. Mr. MacLean, Minister of Education, adjourned the debate and will speak today.

Criticizing the action of the Deputy Speaker last year in calling him to order, and asserting that that was why he voted this year against Mr. Jackson's appointment to the office, Major Burde declared, in response to the Speaker's objection that the Alberni member was not allowed to criticize the action of the Speaker, "I promise you I have nothing to say about the treatment received last year."

The reference was to the alleged action of the Deputy Speaker in calling to order on the debate on the eight-hour bill last year by Major Burde and Mr. Thomas Uphill, the while Mr. J. W. Harris, who was also ruled out of order, was allowed to go with a gentle reprimand.

Major Burde declared the public is guided by what they read in the newspapers and take their lead in governmental matters from the same source. He rapped the penchant of ministers to today the press agency business, and cited, in particular, the various interviews given by Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, member for Vancouver, and the newspaper illustrations in connection therewith. Mrs. Smith, he said, had been labelled as the "Babe of the House."

"I have here a photograph of her in England," declared the member for Alberni. "She is talking to the King and in the background is Queen Mary, who is looking jealous. Judging from this photo I would congratulate the lady member because on this occasion the King has doted himself up in his for her special entertainment."

Double Value of Publicity

Alberni's member did not just know what all this publicity would do for the Province in the way of immigration, but he insisted that it afforded him opportunity to offer some real suggestions towards bettering conditions in the industrial life of the Province, and in this connection there was nothing so far as he knew, that would tend to improve matters more than the enactment of an eight-hour day—something he had been fighting for for the past three years.

Recalling the fact that there is a spirit of unrest abroad, and instancing the fact of the defeat of the Ontario Farmer Government and the Manitoba Government, Major Burde declared there is a cry abroad that the Conservatives of British Columbia, under the leadership of Mr. Bower, cannot win, and that possibly General McRae or Hon. Harry Stevens may lead a party to victory. Major Burde advised the opposition leader not to take too much hope from the Ontario elections. He had felt that since the war there had been room for a third party, the general feeling being that there was need of inspired leadership.

Today, he declared, the public is looking for new blood, but despite that well-known fact, it was found that the present leader of the opposition was virtually submitting to the public the platform submitted by the Minister of Mines in 1916. Much was said about the abolition of patronage, but so far as he could see the only instance of a platform being enforced was "when you get into power you

AN ANTI-BOLSHEVİK RUSSIAN VIEW
(How the Russian Workers' Republic works the peasant).
—From The Dia, Berlin.

abolish the patronage of the other fellow."

No Room for Non-Labor Party

"If we could find in the programme of the old parties a sliver of purpose and effort, there would be no need of third parties. But there is no room for any party that does not include ninety per cent of effort for labor," declared Major Burde.

The soldier member for Alberni made a strong plea for the enforcement of the eight-hour bill, pointing out that the year it was apparently the intention of the Government to bring down such a measure, hereby taking the honor of such a move from himself. He promised to closely scan the Government's bill when introduced, and he made a plea that the measure be brought down early, so that it might be adequately studied by all interested. At the same time he promised that, should the bill not prove satisfactory, he could be counted upon to submit amendments.

Major Burde recalled that since he introduced an eight hour bill there had been many and varied objections thereto. At one time the lumber interests had claimed it would be unfair to local industry in that it would cause competition with other provinces; at another time it was urged that it would put the Province's mills at a disadvantage with those of the state of Washington. The Alberni member declared that as a result of personal observations made by him across the line, he could "challenge any member of the lumber industry in B.C. to produce a single argument against my bill." He pointed to the fact that in the state of Washington the workers in the sawmills work shorter hours, are given better protection and earn at least one dollar more per day than those in British Columbia.

"Let Mr. J. B. Thomson, of Vancouver, who labors only for his fellow-men, tell us how those manufacturers in Washington pay more for logs, pay higher wages and ship the product back into this Province to compete with the British Columbia product. If my facts are correct, then down with the lumber industry in this Province, down with those fat manures in this Province."

Mr. Uphill (Pelle)—That's the boy, Dick.

Oriental Wages

Major Burde, referring to the statement in the King's Speech relative to the flourishing condition of the lumber industry in British Columbia, declared that seventy-five or eighty per cent of the cost of putting lumber on the market in this Province was paid to Orientals. He expressed his pleasure at the support his previous eight-hour day bill had received, asserting he did not care who got the credit for the enactment of such a measure so long as it was passed.

On the question of beer the member for Alberni maintained the stand he has consistently taken for the past three years. He declared there are a great many working men in the Province who want better beer and better wages of beer. He said he would hold no brief for the brewers or the hotelmen, but what did the people vote for at that referendum? The sale of liquor in sealed packages was not a success, in the minds of most voters. They paid no attention to that fine point," asserted Alberni's member, who suggested that while the fourishing condition of the lumber industry was being discussed, so much in enforcing the present act he might bring pressure upon the brewers to produce something that is real beer and not merely stuff labelled as beer.

"Rosin, arsenic and ether are the chief ingredients of the concoctions now being sold to the public," declared the member. "This stuff is being sold through the Government stores. I want to ask the Attorney-General what steps he has taken to assure himself of the quality of the beer being sold under Government auspices."

"The brewers today are passing to the people who desire a decent beer a 'wired product,' declared the member for Alberni, who asserted that such 'brewers' who attempted to poison me and my friends were no friends of mine. I would rather drink that brand of Scotch whisky they make in New Westminster," asserted Major Burde, who held that at present the beer drinker is paying chiefly for glassware and not for beer.

Bootleggers All Right

"Don't talk about the bootlegger, for I have got better booze from him than I can get from the Government store," he asserted to the Attorney-General. He was willing to believe that the Attorney-General was doing his best, as did the previous Attorney-General, to enforce the law, but he suggested that if Hon. Mr. Manson would combine his energy with the experience of his predecessor he would prove to be a "holy terror" to the bootlegger who, at present, in many sections of the Province was giving the thirsty better liquor at cheaper rates than are the Government stores. Unless a change was made and made soon prohibition might result, a possibility which the prohibition forces of the Province are devoutly hoping for. It was true, the member stated, that the Government is making a large financial profit from the liquor trade, but he queried, what about the moral and health aspects of the case? He asserted that today sixteen-year-old girls and boys are "sleeping up the booze," a condition which prohibition, followed by so-called moderation, had brought about.

"If the lady member for Vancouver will come with me I can show her where there is not a dance hall in Vancouver where the 14-year-old or younger girl will not refuse to dance with a youth unless the latter has a mickey on his hip," declared Major Burde, whose statement was supported by Mr. Thomas Uphill with the remark: "She has not traveled with us Dick."

"Is beer by the glass or by the bucket going to stop it? I do not know, but to excuse the language, the morals of this Province are being shot to hell. There is no trouble with old people like me, but the young generation must be protected. If the stool pigeons of the department took cognizance of these facts rather than interfering with grown-ups, we would get better results," said Major Burde, who believed penalty for drunkenness should be reduced.

"Lots of good citizens get drunk; I know a lot who will still get drunk. There is no use of putting a piebald to the public on the question of the sale of beer. What the people want is courageous action on the part of the Government and if that step be taken the people will support you. Get your heads together and in the light of past experience evolve some method whereby the present fault in the liquor problem may be minimized."

REPARATION PLAN DEPENDS ON FRANCE

FRENCH REFUSE TO BRITISH PROPOSAL UNSATISFACTORY

United States Expresses Conviction That Time Has Arrived for Full Investigation

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Whether the exchange of views proceeding between Britain and France will result in a real effort to adjudicate Germany's financial ability, or prove another of Europe's futile gestures to settle its difficulties, remained this afternoon to depend upon the nature of Premier Poincare's reply to the second British note concerning the reparations problem.

If the verbal summary of the note telephoned from Paris proves to be correct, there appears to be little hope of a conference based on the lines suggested by the United States and Great Britain.

Whether, in the event Mr. Poincare's terms for a third conference are rejected, Great Britain will invite the United States, Belgium, Italy and Japan to a larger economic conference without France, remains uncertain.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—A full statement of the French position was given to Washington today by Ambassador Jumerand, just back from Paris, and it was indicated that after his talk with Secretary Hughes during the afternoon, the American government might be in a position to determine, without much delay, whether participation in the expert inquiry would be regarded as worth while.

Washington View

The government holds to its view, meantime, that there should be no possible exploration by the experts of the facts that underlie Germany's industrial productivity, regardless of any factor of time. Information reaching the State Department indicates that Germany is not making any reparations payments of a substantial nature and that such payments are not to be expected in the near future without stabilization of confidence in Germany. On the contrary, the United States is almost facing the time when it may be called upon to make available large sums of money to feed German nationals who might otherwise die of famine due to the confused economic situation in Germany.

In these circumstances, the United States government is more than ever convinced that the time has come when a financial plan to make possible the collection of reparations payments should be devised, and that such a plan to have any practical value must rest upon a study of every phase of Germany's economic condition.

Washington officials do not regard the creation of a commission to propose a plan as in any way jeopardizing the treaty rights so jealously guarded by France.

I have now taken three boxes and am so much improved I can go about my daily work without feeling any after ill effects, and have not had any weak or dizzy spells for some time. reparation policy is her own; it does not follow blindly either France or Great Britain, says a semi-official communication issued today through the Belgian telegraphic agency.

The present decision shows, according to the communiqué, that Belgium has followed a personal policy inspired by her own interests and that she is not subservient to anyone.

"The policy," continues the statement, "is not national in its essence and also has the character of an entente cordial with France and England. It is not correct to speak of any tension in relations between Belgium and France or of a change of front by the Belgian government through abandonment of the French view in favor of the British. The Belgian government continues to follow its own policy; discussed the questions with its friends in London and Paris with intent and the hope of establishing an accord."

LOCAL BEER CLUB MUST PAY $1,000

Hellenic-Canadian Is Convicted for Operating in Violation of Liquor Act—Sold to Stool Pigeons

REAL CULPRITS FREE, MAGISTRATE'S OPINION

Expresses Sorrow for Disabled Veteran, Left to Face Music, and Sent to Jail for Thirty Days

THE prosecution scored an initial victory in the first of a series of pending liquor cases, arising out of extensive police raids on local clubs and alleged bootlegging establishments two weeks ago, when the Hellenic-Canadian Club, 606 Yates Street, and William Teasdale, a disabled soldier employee of the club, were convicted of selling beer to stool pigeons of the Government Liquor Board.

The club, which came forward in the person of its manager, James H. Young, was fined $1,000. A distress order was made in default of payment forthwith.

Magistrate Jay voiced his regret that he should be obliged to send Teasdale to jail for one month, the minimum penalty under the act. "I have a great deal of sympathy with this unfortunate man," said the magistrate. "It seems to me that the real culprits are escaping responsibility. They are leaving the man, an employee, to bear the brunt of the trouble."

Principal Gets Away

City Prosecutor Harrison informed the court that Butro Bancroft, to whom the evidence pointed as being the man who received the profits of the club, had got away to Seattle. Magistrate Jay remarked that Bancroft, and not Teasdale, should have been charged with the offence.

Teasdale was defended by Mr. H. E. A. Courtney, Young, appearing for the club, objected to being tried with the other defendant, and asked for further remand. Magistrate Jay refused to permit any further delay, in view of the fact that the case had several times been adjourned during the last two weeks.

Ernest Alfred Killwinn and Andrew Grant, describing themselves as special constables of the Government Liquor Board, gave evidence that they bought beer in the place on October 20 last. They presented a button outside the first-floor door, and were admitted without being asked questions. They purchased three bottles of beer, and after drinking some toasting to the club, they were real beer, but the bottles in their pockets, as evidence of the transaction. They had been searched by Chief of Police Smith before and after their visit to the club. They had been engaged in similar work in other places in Victoria that day, and had drunk beer and whisky before they went to the Hellenic Club.

Does Not Like Term

Killwinn objected strongly to being called a stool pigeon by counsel for the defence.

"I am not a stool pigeon, unless you please to call it so," said the witness, speaking with a strong German accent. "I am a special constable, sworn in." He was born in Australia, he said, educated in Latvia, and had done much work of the kind. He could see no difference between such work and any other sort of police work. He had been sent over to do this work in Victoria by Inspector Miller, of the Government Liquor Board. He had been doing such work regularly in Vancouver. He was in the regular pay of the Liquor Board.

William Teasdale, testifying in his own defence, would not swear positively that he had not served the spies with beer. If they got in the bar, he had had either membership cards or a key. He was not sure exactly who he was working for. He had been hired to work behind the bar, and had worked there only three weeks before the raid. He had received about $30 for his services. He had done only what was told to do. He was a disabled soldier, had lost a hand in the Great War, could not do any laboring work. He showed some indignation that he had been left to fight his own battle in court. The man who looked after the money received for beer was Butro Bancroft. It was Bancroft's orders that he had carried out. He did not know that he was breaking the law. He had been told that all the persons using the place were members of the club.

The Modus Operandi

Magistrate Jay insisted that James H. Young should be called to the witness box, although the man showed great reluctance to testify. He said he was manager of the club. He handed all money to Butro Bancroft, who owned a half interest in the club. There were lockers in the club. It was true that there were three names on some of the lockers. Teasdale had been ordered to put beer in the lockers as it was received from the Government Liquor Vendor's. Bancroft had left on the Vancouver boat on the night of the raid. The business was still going on. The twenty-five cents received from members when they got a bottle of beer was for service, not for the beer, he intimated. There were 175 members in the club. It was an incorporated club. Mr. Courtney asked the court to show clemency in the case of Teasdale, who had been left to face the prosecution, although he had received no profits from the club. Magistrate Jay, as stated, expressed sympathy for the defendant, but said he was compelled by the statute to inflict a prison sentence.

SANTA BARBARA, 8,000 YEARS OLD, ARE FOUND BY SCIENTISTS

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Nov. 5.—Homo Barabara—the Santa Barbara man—lived in an era long after the Neanderthal and Heidelberg man and not in either the Pleistocene or Neolithic ages, according to scientists who flocked to Santa Barbara today to investigate the recent finding of a prehistoric skull.

Close examination, they asserted, brought out signs of great age, probably from 5,000 to 8,000 years. The crani, beneath which the skull was found, however, bore faint signs of charcoal, which would tend to show that the shell-like substance was once the floor of an Indian kitchen and not a deposit made by the ocean, according to previous reports.

The scientists agreed that the skull would form a new link in the history of the American Indian from the time of the first arrival of Asiatics.

CHURCHILL STORY AROUSES CRITICS

VARIOUS VIEWS OFFERED BY EXPERTS ON DARDANIELLES

LT.-COL. REPINGTON ATTACKS FORMER FIRST LORD FOR HIS SUPPORT OF "EASTERN" POLICY

ARTICLE I

The second series of articles by Mr. Winston Churchill, which have just been published in this paper simultaneously with The London Times, is creating much controversy in England.

Lieutenant-Colonel Repington devotes two columns in The Daily Telegraph in an attempt to destroy the impression created by Mr. Churchill that the Dardanelles adventure was based on an inspiration of genius. "Easterners," says Lieutenant-Colonel Repington, "have a champion at last. Nothing could please the Easterners better than his revealed advocacy of a lost cause."

"All historians, no matter from what point of view they write, will welcome his contribution to the inner history of 1915."

"But he has missed the main lesson of the whole episode," writes this. This lesson is the crying need for a coalition to come together at the first favorable opportunity, to lay down the lines of their future strategy, and then for every one of them to prepare the measures and lie means to carry that strategy into effect. There is no evidence in these extracts that the government had ever thought of this elementary act of war strategy or had done anything to advocate or advance it.

"From this omission there followed throughout all the eastern sphere of operations a succession of ineffectual expeditions, British in origin, but also French, initiated without allied accord or plan, without serious preparation, without adequate means, leading to a useless waste of effort and to some heavy defeat. All the errors and omissions which the wit of man could incorporate within plans of campaign were displayed for us to observe. Among them the expedition to the Dardanelles had a leading place. Boldly led, gallantly fought, and heroically ended indeed it was, but nothing can obliterate remembrance of the fact that, so far as directing circles in London were concerned, it was terribly muddled from first to last."

Ships and Ports

"Expert opinion before the war was generally opposed to the attack of ships on forts, but each case has to be considered on its merits. When forts are in exposed positions facing the open sea and their armament is inferior in range to that of ships, there is no reason why the heavy expenditure of ammunition, why ships should not attack forts and place them out of action. Alexandria and the bombardment of the coast of the Dardanelles are cases in point. But the straits were altogether another affair. Here we were in narrow waters peculiarly suited to defence."

"Even had the remnant of the Allied fleet been able to reach the Sea of Marmora, they could have remained there little longer than Duckworth, in 1807. If so long, for they could not have been followed by their unarmored ships with provisions, stores and shells. The Turkish army would have been withdrawn out of range and he would have been yet told us what the Allied fleet was meant to do, or could have done, after forcing the straits. Constantinople might have been bombarded, but no permanent hold could have been secured without an army strong enough to defeat the Turkish army. Gallipoli was a magnet to attract an army, and the straits a mouse-trap to entice a fleet."

"It is strange, and is not noticed by Mr. Churchill, that on January 1, 1915, Mr. Bland proposed to B. Vivian's cabinet to send an Anglo-French expedition of 30,000 men to the Adriatic to join the then still victorious Serbs, and that this proposal was accepted in principle by the French Government. On the same day a memorandum by Mr. Lloyd George to the war council pointed to the east as the true objective, and outlined a far-reaching policy directed against Austria."

FOR 15 YEARS WAS TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA

There is no other remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters that can possibly give such relief to all sufferers from eczema, salt rheum and all other diseases of the blood for the reason that this old and well tried remedy goes right to the seat of the trouble and completely and permanently drives these diseases out of the system by cleansing the blood and making it pure and rich.

Mr. F. W. M. Rebutts, Pembroke, Ont., writes: "Having been troubled with eczema for fifteen years, during which time I tried everything I could think of, including doctors, but without getting anything to do me much good, I finally decided to take Burdock Blood Bitters, and I was certainly surprised to find that two weeks after I had started to take it I was relieved of my trouble. That was no months ago, and I have not had a sign of it since. I surely wish to thank you for this wonderful medicine and sincerely recommend it to all who suffer from the same trouble as I had."

and early sacrifices which the conquest of some of these Eastern territories entailed upon us, and still entails. The fate of the war always depended upon the decision in the main theatre. There our governments should have sought it, and there alone.

"We can understand the War Council of 1915 not having the faintest conception of our real problem, since the lives of six out of seven of them had not been passed in the theory and practice of war. One cannot know a subject without learning it. SALES TAX RULES MADE MUCH CLEARER

Commissioner of Customs, Mr. R. R. Farrow, Explains Working of New Regulation

When the delegation from the Victoria Chamber of Commerce was before the Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, yesterday, the opportunity was presented for taking up the new sales tax regulations with the Commissioner of Customs, Mr. R. R. Farrow.

This new tax regulation is held to be rather complicated, and it was quite evident that there was a good deal of misunderstanding on the part of many with respect to its interpretation and the working out of the rules. Mr. Farrow was able to clear up many points and the matter was made quite clear to all.

It was stated by members of the delegation that the clearing up of these matters took away in many cases the objections that had been in existence.

Will Urge Comptroller and Treasurer Prepare Men to Step Into Their Places if Necessary

A recommendation that the city treasurer and the city comptroller have understudies who will be trained to fill their positions should they leave the service of the city either temporarily or permanently at any

"The death of the late comptroller and the appointment of another has brought out the fact that neither the official nor the city treasurer had an understudy who was kept fully in touch with matters concerning his department so that he might be ready to take up the duties of the office at any time if necessary," explained the Mayor last night. "I will advise that officials already in the employ of the city be selected for preparation in the way I have suggested."

"I'm so glad it's a real Victrola!"

"I am so glad you gave me a real Victrola, for in my mind no other instrument can compare with it."

"I have always thought of the Victrola as something human—a chum, a living individuality."

"Why John, now our entertainment can match our mood! Caruso, McCormack, Galli-Curci, if we like—then if we feel 'dancy' just think of having Paul Whiteman's famous orchestra to play for us."

"Truly, it's going to be the 'Theatre of our Home.'"

Such pride of ownership, such joy of possession really comes only to those who possess "His Master's Voice" Victrola, for in conjunction with "His Master's Voice" Victor Records, it is the one instrument chosen by the world's greatest artists to interpret their genius.

It is an indispensable member of the household, an entertainer always in good humor, always ready for a clear voiced program of Romance. Song, Opera, or the spirit of Jazz.

If those in your home are to enjoy this wonderful entertainment; if they are to be able to say "I'm so glad it's a real Victrola", then you must be careful to look under the lid of the instrument you contemplate buying and see that our famous trade mark "His Master's Voice" is there. In no other way can you be sure of getting a real Victrola.

Use "His Master's Voice" Victor Tungs-tone Sivil needles. A package of 3 should play over 300 times. We recommend them

Why "HIS MASTER'S VOICE" VICTROLA dominates!

There is an essential difference between Victrolas and other sound-reproducing instruments. Victrolas are built with a most complete knowledge of the art, and with a steady view of their prime function—that of reproducing the most glorious music of the world as interpreted by the greatest musicians of the world. No compromise is permitted. Victrolas do not embody freak construction in order to provide selling points.

FOREST PROTECTION URGENTLY ADVOCATED

Kumtuka Club Endorses Movement of Victoria Women Devoted to Aid
Scenery Preservation

An effort toward preservation of the magnificent giant cedars between Cameron Lake and Alberni formed the subject of a resolution which the Kumtuka Club endorsed at its regular luncheon meeting yesterday. This resolution emanated from a meeting of Victoria women held last week, and calls on the Provincial Government to introduce a Scenery Protection Bill, with a view to preventing the destruction of such beautiful natural resources through private or public enterprise.

A number of matters were dealt with by the club in the course of the short session. Miss Shirsper, representing "The Survey," the magazine founded by Dr. Devine, who was here last week, occupied a few minutes of the proceedings with a short talk about the field of welfare work covered by this periodical. Miss Roberts submitted the financial statement of the bridge and mah jong party held by the club on Saturday evening, and thanks were voted to Miss Roberts, Miss Blakeley, Messrs. Weller, Miss Wisley, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Mrs. Godman and Miss Macrae for special assistance given in connection with the affair. Correspondence included an invitation from the Rotary Club to a joint luncheon of the two clubs, to be held on November 22 at the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Alma Russell was appointed convener of the programme committee, with power to add, and Miss Howell was asked to arrange a musical programme. The meeting also supported a suggestion from the University Women's Club that Sir Edmund Walker, of the Canadian National Gallery committee, should be appealed to to purchase the war pictures painted by Mrs. Mary Riter Hamilton, the Canadian artist, who went to France shortly after the declaration of the Armistice, and whose uniquely interesting collection may be lost to the nation unless some measure is taken to secure them. Owing to Thanksgiving falling on the regular meeting day of the club, the next business meeting will be on Tuesday, November 13, at 8 p.m., Alexandra Club.

City and District

Sanwich Fire Marshal—Municipal Clerk Sewell was appointed Sanwich fire marshal by the Council last night in place of Police Chief P. Hogan, who asked to be relieved of the post.

Publisher Here—Mr. Charles Campbell, proprietor of The Vancouver World, was a visitor at the Legislative buildings yesterday. He left for the Mainland last evening.

Equimault Liberals—The regular monthly meeting of the Equimault Liberal Association will take place this evening in Kent's Hall, Equimault Road, at 8 o'clock.

G.W.V.A. Meeting—There will be an executive meeting of the Victoria branch tonight at 7:30 o'clock, to be followed by a general meeting at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to attend.

Organized for Business—The Agricultural Committee of the Legislature met yesterday morning and organized for the session with Mr. K. C. MacDonald, of North Okanagan, as chairman, and Major K. Duncan, of Cowichan, secretary.

Refuse Endorsement—According to a letter read at yesterday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, the Board of Trade of North Vancouver has refused to endorse the Chamber's recent resolution condemning the Landahl Coast Range steel plant.

Fortnightly Meetings—Notice of motion was given at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday, to hold the directors' luncheons once every fortnight instead of once a week as at present. Mr. Mark Graham proposed the motion and it will come up for discussion a week from next Monday.

Equimault Council—The smallest agenda of the year confronted the Equimault Municipal Council at its meeting last night. Routine matters alone came up for the consideration of Reeve Lockley and the councillors, who were thus enabled to adjourn early and attend the indignation meeting held in protest against the proposed extension of the Equimault district in a electoral district.

Says Action Premature—Premier Oliver, referring to the bill of indignation meeting in Equimault to protest against the elimination of that riding, says that the move was premature. There is no Restriction bill in existence yet, and when there is, the matter will be placed in the hands of a select committee of the Legislature. Then, any district that feels that it has a grievance to air will be at liberty to present its views, when they will be heard by those able to act on them.

No Shortening of Time—There is no truth in the statement that the Johnson Street Bridge will be closed for vehicular traffic any earlier than announced some time ago, City Engineer F. M. Preston said yesterday. The misunderstanding, he explained, grew out of the fact that the actual work would be completed several weeks before the concrete flooring of the approaches would be in condition. However, he added, it is still expected that the highway portion of the bridge will be ready for use about Christmas time.

E. & N. Land Office—Consideration will be given the proposed transfer of the Equimault & Nanaimo land office from Victoria to Vancouver, by Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and the advisory committee of that institution, according to a letter received from Mr. F. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and read at yesterday's meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Beatty added that he thought more importance was being given the question than it warranted, and in conclusion assured the directors that the company would make no move without having their policy clearly defined in the interests of the people of Victoria every consideration.

Automobile Club Directors—A special meeting of the directors of the Victoria Branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia has been called for today (Monday) at the Chamber of Commerce committee room. President T. H. Kirk, of the club, has come over from Vancouver, and will give a report on the club's organizing campaign which has recently been carried out through the interior of the province. While this meeting is being held, Mr. Kirk, it is intended, if possible, to transact other club business which would have come up at the regular monthly meeting next week. In this case the regular meeting will not be held. Members are invited to the directors' meetings, and any who wish to attend are asked to notify the secretary, phone 3293, before 11 o'clock, in order that reservations may be made for the number of lunches.

Band Concerts—Mr. F. Landberg, chairman of the band committee of the Automobile Club, will give a report on the club's organizing campaign which has recently been carried out through the interior of the province. While this meeting is being held, Mr. Kirk, it is intended, if possible, to transact other club business which would have come up at the regular monthly meeting next week. In this case the regular meeting will not be held. Members are invited to the directors' meetings, and any who wish to attend are asked to notify the secretary, phone 3293, before 11 o'clock, in order that reservations may be made for the number of lunches.

the Chamber of Commerce, was the recipient of the official thanks of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday for the interest he had shown in the work of his committee, and the effort he had put forth to give good service during the past Summer. In reading his report, Mr. Landberg pointed out that while expenditures had been $2,700, a substantial balance of $400 still remained. He hoped the 1924 City Council, when striking estimates for next year, would include in them an adequate grant for municipal band concerts. He also suggested that efforts be made to secure some central place where concerts could be given. During the past Summer efforts had been made to secure the use of the lawn at the Parliament Buildings and at the Empress Hotel, but without success.

Customs Test Case—According to a statement made at the Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday by Mr. E. Tomlin, a shipment of Canadian goods manufactured in Toronto and shipped across the United States to New York for carriage to British Columbia via the Panama Canal, is expected in Vancouver in a few days, and the Vancouver Board of Trade has secured a statement from the Canadian customs officials at Vancouver that a duty of forty-one per cent would be levied on the goods. Mr. Tomlin said, was prepared to take the case into the courts in order to secure a definite decision, and was prepared to carry it through to the Privy Council. Premier Oliver had stated, he added, that he had searched through Canadian statutes and had failed to find authority for the action taken by the customs department.

IS LIKELY TO SEEK POSITION ON BOARD

Mr. Alex. Peden Thinking Seriously of Entering Field—Has Considerable Municipal Experience

It is very likely that Mr. Alex. Peden will run for school trustees in December. He stated last night at a meeting of the City Council for some years. He was an alderman in 1911, when he headed the movement for the Ross Bay seawall. In 1917-18 he was chairman of the Board of Health, and in 1918 held office as license commissioner.

"If I do decide to seek a seat on the School Board," Mr. Peden stated last night, "I will not have an elaborate platform of promised reforms. If elected I would simply do the best I could, and deal with the various questions to the best of my ability. Having a family of my own, I am greatly interested in school matters."

SEEKING TO CANCEL SALES TAX ON BOOKS

The presence of the Minister of Customs in the city yesterday was taken advantage of to bring to the attention of the department the advisability of remitting the sales tax on books used in public libraries. A delegation representing the library, composed of Rev. J. Leslie Clay, Miss Stewart, and Mr. John Hoile, waited on the Minister.

At the present time the duty is remitted on books brought in for the use of the public library, but a sales tax is imposed. Hon. Jacques Bureau was asked by the delegation to consider the matter. He said he had other questions put to him was that of the collection of the sales tax on the value of books that were received free from various institutions in foreign countries. The Minister explained to the delegation that these matters did not come under his department, which was charged with the duty only. The sales tax was a matter affecting the revenue department, and would have to be dealt with through that channel. He expressed his sympathy with the movement, and promised that he would take the matter up upon his return to Ottawa.

Under the Clock

City Hall Activities in Brief

The City School Board will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. C. E. Clarke had intended running for school trustee, but circumstances have since decided her to remain out of the field.

The lease, as drafted by Mr. Pringle at my suggestion, will be laid before the council, when it can be amended in any way desired," explained his Worship yesterday.

The insurance on the windows, lights, etc., in the Victoria Public Library is to be discontinued in accordance with the recommendation of the library commission, the City Council decided last night.

The Mayor's action is one taken purely for the purpose of securing some basis for discussion and to remove from the solicitor's shoulders the task of advancing one policy out of the many which are possible.

Ex-Mayor Alex. Stewart, when asked yesterday if it was true that he had been asked to run for alderman in December, admitted that it was, but said that he had definitely decided not to stand.

While she had been approached by citizens desiring her to enter the field for a school board seat, said Mrs. Spofford, former trustee, last night, she had not made up her mind whether she would or would not be a candidate.

Following Mayor Hayward's suggestion, Mr. Pringle will place in the lease a provision that the Agricultural Association shall, in return for the use of the grounds, pay the taxes to Oak Bay, maintain the property and popularize it for various branches of sport.

Informed by the police commission that in regard to footwear for the policemen, that body had decided to have each member of the force purchase his own boots where he wished, the city footing the bill, the council approved of the policy.

Mr. D. A. Macdonald, the new city comptroller, will take up his duties this morning at the city hall. The Mayor stated that the new official's office for the present would be the committee room, once the Mayor's office, and dubbed "the Black Hole of Calcutta," but not quite presentable. Mr. Macdonald arrived in the city yesterday afternoon.

The City Council consented last night to lease on a twenty-year term, lots 12 and 13 facing Robertson and Mill Streets, between Ross Street and Lillian Road, for use as a site for a community centre, provided that the applicants pay all taxes and an annual rental of $14. Lots 17 and 18 at the corner of Robertson, Ross and Mill Streets were set aside for park purposes in connection with the same project.

In view of the fact that the City Council asked City Solicitor Pringle to draft a lease of the Willows Fair Grounds, between Ross Street and Lillian Road, for use as a site for a community centre, provided that the applicants pay all taxes and an annual rental of $14. Lots 17 and 18 at the corner of Robertson, Ross and Mill Streets were set aside for park purposes in connection with the same project.

The resignation of Miss Edna Castle, the telephone operator at the City Hall, who is about to be married, was accepted by the City Council last night and best wishes for her happiness expressed. "And congratulations to the young man," urged Ald. Woodward. Applications for the vacant position will be considered by the council at its next meeting. An application written on green notepaper was furnished by Mayor Hayward. An attempt to leave in his hands the task of selecting a successor to Miss Castle proved abortive.

The finance committee of the City Council was faced yesterday afternoon by the old question of the city's refusal to carry out the terms of the late comptroller's letter and pay interest on certain debentures in American funds. The matter came up when a letter from the Dominion Securities Corporation, of Toronto, was received, asking the adherence by the city to the terms of the late Mr. Raymond's letter. After considerable discussion, the committee decided to ask for no change in the council's present stand that it will adhere to the terms on the face of the debentures rather than follow the course set out in a letter said never to have been authorized.

Aldermen Leeming and Woodward at the council meeting last night, objected to the council endorsing projects requiring large Government expenditures in view of the fact that it was asking for further financial assistance from the Provincial authorities. The question arose when a request from the council of Kamloops for approval of a resolution, asking that the transprovincial highway be built via the Fraser Canyon route, was received. When a general resolution in regard to completing the transprovincial highway, but making no mention of the route, was moved, Ald. Leeming pointed out that the Government would throw the matter at the members of the council when they went to it with various financial requests. Ald. Woodward echoed his sentiments, but the general resolution was passed.

Langford Auxiliary—Mrs. Belson, diocesan president of the Women's Auxiliary, will address the regular monthly meeting of the Langford branch on Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hicks on Coldstream Road. All who are interested are invited to attend.

Returns From England

His many friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Charles Rowles, who so successfully directed the Victoria Boys' Orchestra, has returned to the city after an extended trip to England. While in the Old Country Mr. Rowles spent most of his time at the home of his parents in Dilton, near Maidenhead, Kent, making numerous trips to London, where he procured several orchestras of some of the latest English musical numbers. These he proposes to use in connection with the Boys' Orchestra, which has now resumed practice. Mr. Rowles contemplates taking the orchestra over to England in the summer of 1924, if by that time the players have reached that state of proficiency which will justify the trip. Several people whom he met in England and to whom he made known his intention displayed great interest in the proposal and have given and promised practical assistance in the event of the orchestra going there. Mr. Rowles will be glad if boys who play musical instruments, and would like to join the orchestra, would communicate with him by telephoning No. 4835 R.

VICTORIA DRUGGISTS WILL CONDUCT DANCE
Ray Kinloch's Entertainers to Provide Music at First Function of the Season

The Victoria druggists have decided to hold their initial dance of the season on Wednesday, November 14, from 8 till 1, in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Government Street. To make the affair more than ordinarily interesting, the druggists, with their usual ingenuity, are introducing a number of innovations. Ray Kinloch's dance orchestra has been secured for the evening and the very latest in music has been arranged for. During the evening a dainty buffet supper will be served. The arrangements being in the capable hands of Messrs. Tighe & Wheeler. In the past the druggists have proven themselves exceedingly hosts and the affair will undoubtedly be a great success. Intending patrons are advised to procure their tickets early, as only a limited number are available. These may be obtained at city drug stores.

The first marriage in the White House was that of a sister-in-law of President Madison.

WOMEN IN POLITICS AS SEEN BY WOMAN

Mrs. Nellie McClung Will Be Speaker at Women's Canadian Club Meeting This Afternoon

Mrs. Nellie McClung, M.L.A., the gifted Canadian authoress, will speak before the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon on the subject, "Women in Politics." Mrs. W. P. McLaughlin will be the soloist. The meeting will commence promptly at 3:15 o'clock.

CARNIVAL BALL WILL MARK HISTORIC DATE

Birthday of Province Will Be Commemorated by Lady Douglas Chapter

On Monday, November 19, the Province of British Columbia will have attained its sixty-fifth birthday. An event to be commemorated by a carnival ball and children's fancy-dress party under the auspices of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Victoria was founded by Sir James Douglas in 1843, and was known as Camosun, meaning in the native language, "rush of water," and spelled Camosack by Douglas; as Esquimalt he spelled lawhymalth.

It was on November 19, 1858, that the union of the Mainland and Vancouver Island was publicly proclaimed by Governor Douglas at Fort Langely, then the presumptive capital of the colony of British Columbia, and the opening of the first legislature presided over by Mr. Justice Begbie and Mr. Charles Brew, police magistrate.

In 1860 the capital of British Columbia was established at Victoria. It is to honor the memory of these early pioneers to which McLoughlin, Helmchen, Tolmie, Work, Ogden, Grant, Finlayson and many others may be added, all of whom contributed to the history of city and Province a wealth of human interest. The function will be under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier and Mrs. Oliver and Mayor and Mrs. Hays.

The management of the Empress Hotel has kindly placed the private dining-room for cards at the disposal of guests who do not dance, and special attractions will feature both the children's and adults' programs.

Professor Lou Turner's augmented orchestra will provide the latest music, and several gentlemen and ladies have kindly consented to act as floor managers and arrange introductions and ensure all the guests having a good time.

Several old-fashioned dances, including the lancers, will be put on the program, which will add much to the pleasure of those who have not taken up the newer dances.

Tickets are now on sale and may be had at the lounge at store and David Spencer & Co's, where a member of the chapter will be in attendance at the store during the week.

GARDEN CITY WOMEN OPPOSE NEW BUS TAX

Garden City Women's Institute met Thursday afternoon in Maxgold Hall. A letter was read from the British Columbia Stage Drivers' Association regarding the tax of $250 per year on stage drivers' licenses. The members of the institute were much opposed to such a move, as the busmen have proven themselves necessities in the outlying districts.

Mrs. Dewar reported that ten babies had attended the last clinic, the arrangement of which had been a subject of congratulation from the doctor and nurses in charge.

It is the intention of the institute to open a class in physical training in the near future, with Miss Gladys Thorpe as teacher. The class will meet once a week, and the fee for twelve lessons will be $1.50 per member. Full particulars will be announced later.

Delicious tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Mrs. Nellie McClung Will Be Speaker at Women's Canadian Club Meeting This Afternoon

Mrs. Nellie McClung, M.L.A., the gifted Canadian authoress, will speak before the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon on the subject, "Women in Politics." Mrs. W. P. McLaughlin will be the soloist. The meeting will commence promptly at 3:15 o'clock.

CHURCH AUDIENCE LAUDS SENTENCES

REV. DR. DAVIES COMMENDS MAGISTRATE'S ACTION

Says Publicity Is Only Thing to Stop Narcotic Business—Speaks on Church Union

"Thank God, Magistrate Jay had the backbone to lay out these sentences on Saturday to the three persons convicted in the local police court of being illegally in possession of opium," declared Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, pastor of Centennial Methodist Church, in the course of answering queries asked of him in the question box at the evening service in the Gorge Road church on Sunday night. This and other references to the drug situation were warmly applauded by the large congregation that packed the auditorium to capacity.

"There are sinister influences at work in this narcotic case, and Mr. Harrison, the city prosecutor, has met with obstacle after obstacle and very little support from so-called reformers at any sessions of the trial. If ever the whole truth concerning the drug business in British Columbia is revealed in the Royal Inquiry, there will be a wave of indignation that will overwhelm those who are higher-ups," Dr. Davies told his hearers.

Dr. Davies maintained that "certainly it seemed as though something in the world desired a publicity. But publicity is the only thing to stop this narcotic business. Turn on the light and these reptiles of the dark will flee," urged the speaker, who contended that "when the public is made acquainted with some things that a few of us know concerning this affair, there will be 'something doing'."

"If the Royal Inquiry is untrammelled, all these revelations will come out," declared Dr. Davies.

The speaker asserted that the drug and narcotic evil was worse than the "boose" and ten times as insidious. "However," he went on, "that doesn't make 'boose' any less offensive, but we must keep both evils in our line of vision and 'go after them'."

Union, Not Uniformity
Dr. Davies preached a sermon on Church Union, which he discussed from various angles, and spoke sympathetically of the Presbyterians and other church bodies. He said that church union has often been said to mean church uniformity, and men have supposed that if the churches ever came together they must of necessity become all one. "The war, though, has made clear that we can have union without uniformity. We can have union in the midst of a wide variety of forms. We can be united in the essentials. We can in church life be different in a thousand ways and yet give up nothing that is essential to the integrity of our Christian life, and be gloriously one. I call upon you tonight to strive for church union," he stated.

The speaker was asked what he thought of Sunday golf. Dr. Davies replied that personally he was opposed to it. "On the whole, however," he went on, "I think that one day in seven should be set apart for spiritual and physical recreation and that such recreation as is taken for physical purposes should be in keeping with the general order of the day. At the same time I believe that a man may re-create his body as well as his soul, if he does it in a decent and orderly manner on the Lord's Day. I am opposed to all organized amusement made for the Sabbath. Let a man rejuvenate his mind and his body, and not forget to give his soul a chance."

GORDON DRYSDALE WILL CLOSE BUSINESS

Well-Known Drygoods Firm to Close Local Branch—Will Concentrate on Vancouver Store

Definite announcement was made yesterday that the well-known firm of Gordon Drysdale, limited, will withdraw from business in Victoria at the close of this year and concentrate all efforts on the development of the Vancouver branch of the firm. Yesterday the closing-out sale was begun. All day the store was thronged with eager shoppers and an addition of thirty salesladies had to be made to the staff to handle the crowds of people.

Mr. D. Steele, of Vancouver, manager of the firm, said yesterday that he did not wish Victorians to think that Drysdales had lost confidence in this city. He explained that the management wished to expand the Vancouver business on account of the larger market there, and required the capital used in the local branch to further that purpose.

"Business conditions in Victoria today," said Mr. Steele, "show improvement over those obtaining for the past two years. Prices, in particular, are more stable. But in Vancouver, on account of the faster growth of the city, we have a more extensive market than here. We decided recently that it would be in the best interests of the firm to bend all our efforts to the development of one large store in Vancouver. Our future policy will be to centralize our capital. Our departure from this city can in way be ascribed to poor business conditions. We are very sorry to leave Victoria."

Davenport Soccerites Win From Veterans By Three Goals to One

NANAIMO, Nov. 4.—The Davenport soccer team defeated the local Great War Veterans here Sunday afternoon by three goals to one. At half-time the Veterans had a one-goal lead. Shortly after the opening of the second period the Davenporters scored two goals in quick succession. With the score two to one, and five minutes to play, the Veterans scored on a corner kick, which was allowed by the referee. The Davenporters protested, on the ground that the ball curved into the net from the kick without being touched by a player. The referee changed his mind and disallowed the goal. Immediately the field was in an uproar, and the scene presented a near-riot for a time. However, play was resumed, the Davenporters securing their third tally two minutes before the final whistle.

MR. BONAR LAW BURIED IN ABBEY

During the moments of waiting before the noon hour struck, Beethoven's Funeral March and Dvorak's "Largo" were rendered on the organ. As the coffin was brought through the great west doorway of the Abbey it was met by the dean, clergy and the choir with the Archbishop of Canterbury. Bearing the casket were four non-commissioned officers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers and four from the Royal Air Force. They represented the organization to which belonged the two sons of Mr. Bonar Law, who lost their lives in the world war. The congregation rose as the coffin was borne through the Nave and the choir to a position in front of the Sacrament.

Ten pallbearers walked behind the casket. They were the Prince of Wales, representing King George; Prime Minister Baldwin; Hon. John Henry Whitley, the Speaker of the House of Commons; former Premier Balfour and Asquith; Viscount Fitzalan, former Lord Lieutenant and Governor-General of Ireland; Lords Carson and Beaverbrook; Austen Chamberlain and Ramsay MacDonald; Viscount Fitzalan and Lord Carson had been closely associated with Mr. Bonar Law's political career, the former as chief whip of the Unionist Party, the latter in the fight to keep Ireland a part of the United Kingdom; Lord Beaverbrook was there as one of the dead statesman's most intimate personal friends and advisers.

Group of Mourners

The group of mourners following the bearers included his daughters, Lady Sybil and Miss Catherine; his sons, H. R. and R. K. Law; his sister, Miss Law, and his son-in-law, Major-General Sir Frederick Sykes.

The singing services of the burial service were chanted by the choir in its procession to the west door. After the dean read the 23rd Psalm and the lesson from the 11th chapter of Revelations, verses one to 7. Then followed the hymn "The Strife is Over, Battle Done," and to the notes of the organ the coffin was borne to the place of burial in the second south bay. The choir sang "Gods Anthem," "I Heard a Voice from Heaven," and after the committal prayers had been read the congregation joined in singing Kipling's "Recessional."

The Archbishop of Canterbury pronounced the blessing.

The authorities of Westminster have decided to reserve the south bay where Mr. Bonar Law was buried, for the interment of statesmen and the corresponding bay on the north side of the Abbey for men of science and letters.

The former premier and his family during their life in London had been members of St. Columba's Church of Scotland, a church in which many Scottish residents of the city are attached. Mr. Bonar Law's ashes had been taken there from the house last Saturday night after the cremation, and the pastor, Dr. Archibald Fleming, conducted a Presbyterian service there at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Inasmuch as flowers for funerals in the Abbey are contrary to custom a great number of wreaths were sent to St. Columba's, a distance of two miles from Westminster Abbey. Thousands of people lined the streets to witness the short procession as it passed from the church to the Abbey. The bearers joined the cortege a short way from their destination, as it passed by Buckingham Palace.

The silent cortege will proceed heavily along the route from the palace to the Abbey that several women fainted.

Traffic in the vicinity of the Abbey had been diverted at 11 o'clock and every bit of pavement and open grass in the neighborhood was covered with people.

FIREMEN ASK FOR SALARY INCREASE

Inform Council They Were Unfairly
Dealt With This Year—Want to Return to 1922 Level

The City Council last night referred to its 1924 successors the request of the local firefighters' union for the raising of the firemen's salaries to the 1922 level. Aldermen Woodward and Dewar sought to have the words "for favorable consideration" added, but Ald. Andrews opposed this. Ald. Todd declared he was not going to popularize himself by such an act, while Ald. Gillespie asserted that the fire department was overstaffed.

The members of the department received a cut in salaries this year on the understanding that similar reductions would be general, stated the letter from the union. The police commission blocked an effort to have the economy extended to the police force. The firemen claimed that they had been unfairly dealt with.

"On this plea, therefore," went on the letter "also that the cost of living has not been reduced, but rather the opposite has taken place, and that figures in our possession prove this to be one of the very lowest paid fire departments on the Coast and in Western Canada, we ask you to put this department back on the 1923 scale of salaries by recommending same to the incoming council."

Lord Cranworth Is to Arrive in Victoria—Is Not Big Game Hunter

On a combined business and pleasure trip Lord Cranworth, of Grimsby, Woodbridge, Suffolk, accompanied by Lady Cranworth, has arrived on the coast and is expected to arrive at the Victoria Hotel today.

Lord Cranworth is a noted big game shot, and in addition to looking after the interests of several British investors in this Province, will probably indulge in his favorite sport during his stay here.

For several years Lord Cranworth lived at Londana, British East Africa, and is the author of two books dealing with that colony. The first, published in 1912, is entitled "A Colony in the Making," and the second, "Profit and Sport in British East Africa," appeared in 1919.

Education at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. Lord Cranworth served in the South African war in 1900, and again in British East Africa from 1906 to 1911. GIANT PLAYS ROLE OF ARMY IN 'WHY WORRY?'

Harold Lloyd's Latest Farce is at the Dominion Theatre for Another Week—Hundreds Turned Away

Six reels of pure farce at its cleverest and funniest—that's "Why Worry?" playing another week at the Dominion Theatre. Last night the film was shown to a packed house, many not being able to secure admission. It is all about one of those revolutions that explode every once in a while in South America, but that means that there is a full measure of romance and adventure, of thrills and suspense. Richard Dix plays the role of a doctor, and Harold Lloyd plays the role of a man who is writing such tales as this, so did O. Henry.

It tells a story of Harold Lloyd, a rich young idler, who kept himself and a corps of doctors and nurses busy taking care of his health, which was perfect, but, having nothing to do but think about himself, he imagined he had everything except a smallpox.

So he sought health and quiet seclusion in the tropics. With him went his nurse, a girl named Mary, who was putting her heart into her work, especially her heart—into her work. When asked to feel Harold's pulse, her own pulse beat more rapidly than his, for she was in love with him.

Their destination was Paradise, which had been a drowsy city in a dreamy land until Jim Blake, renegade, saw some easy money in overthrowing the government. His outlaw forces had just taken possession of the town when Harold, innocent of the horror of revolution he was getting into, was wheeled ashore. He was speedily arrested and put in the same cell with Colosso, a giant hermit who had a toothache. He broke jail and Harold succeeded in pulling the giant's tooth. Thereafter the grateful Colosso attempted to anticipate Harold's every wish.

The nurse, fleeing from the amorous advances of Blake, disguised herself in the native attire of a boy and hid in a hut. When Harold found her he scolded her for playing around in boys' clothes when she should have been looking after his precious health. Naturally she was furious and let him know it. He was in the midst of admiring her beautiful, flashing brown eyes when Blake entered and recognized the nurse. In spite of her disguise. To the surprise of the sick man he gave the revolutionist a terrible whipping and found that he really enjoyed protecting the girl.

By ruse and strategy, Harold, the giant and the nurse routed the revolutionists, and so busy was he that he forgot his heart and his nerves and refused, for the first time, to take his pills. With much satisfaction he discovered his own case—he was in love with his nurse. As she was a fellow-sufferer, they got married and lived happily till the end of the film.

PAPYRUS STARRS IN BRITISH PRODUCTION

"Son of Kissing Cup" is Attraction at Capitol Theatre This Week—Derby Is Featured

Those who enjoy a good racing drama will be rewarded by visiting the Capitol this week and seeing "Son of Kissing Cup," the latest British production now being shown at the popular theatre. The picture abounds in good thrilling melodrama and fast action. Papyrus, the wonder horse, is cast as "Son of Kissing Cup." The 1923 Derby at Epsom Downs is also featured in the production. This British picture contains a cast of unrivalled excellence, headed by Violet Hopson and Stewart Rome, two of England's foremost screen stars. Viola Wasterlain, the gifted young violinist, is presenting an entirely new programme of solos which is one of the hits of this week's bill.

"WITHIN THE LAW" IS EXCELLENT PHOTOPLAY

"Within the Law," which began an engagement at the Royal Theatre last night, makes even more secure the leadership of Norma Talmadge as a dramatic star.

A classic of the American stage, in which Jane Cowie made her biggest hit, this Bayard Veltier play is now a classic of the silent drama, with Norma Talmadge winning fresh laurels. Love, romance and thrills combine to make it as fascinating and as exciting as a motion picture can be. Much credit, of course, must go to the genius of the director, Frank Lloyd, and to the splendid support of an unusually fine cast.

Norma Talmadge, in the role of Mary Turner, a department store girl railroaded to prison for a theft she did not commit, is a heart-stirring figure. On the completion of her prison term she vows to "get square" with the store owner, who was responsible for this miscarriage of justice, but determines to stay always "within the law."

Thus does she become the head of an organized band of blackmailers and home breakers and entraps Dick Glider, the son of the merchant, only to learn that she herself loves the young man.

A most piquant endeavor to get Joe Garson, accomplice of Mary Turner, into a trap to rob the Glider home. Though Mary refuses to go into the affair, she knows that it is "outside the law," Garson goes ahead with the plan.

She follows to prevent the robbery. The son, Dick Glider, is horrified to see Mary, whom he had secretly married, with these crooks. The stool pigeon becomes terrified and is about to blow his whistle for the police when Garson shoots him. Mary stays on the scene with her husband, but the others flee. The police inspector doubts Mary's story and orders the shooting in defence of his own home. He has them

Reeve Lockley, in seconding the motion, stated that the rural and urban districts of Esquimalt had never quarrelled but had worked and progressed well together. From a municipal standpoint, the reeve foresaw difficulties that might hamper Esquimalt if it were represented by men who also represented Victoria and Oak Bay. He said that Esquimalt might have a bill that would not be in common with Victoria presented to the House. Esquimalt would expect the support of the four members who also represented Victoria. But the city might not favor the bill and would tell their members so. What would be the result? There might be 1,400 votes in Esquimalt, to 14,000 in Victoria, and as we see politicians nowadays, it is practically certain that they would hear Victoria's call first," Reeve Lockley argued.

COUNCILOR Nicol, Mr. W. Miller Higgs and others addressed the meeting, each supporting the motion. Mr. Higgs brought cheers and prolonged applause when he stated that "we have been faithfully served by our member, Mr. Pooley, in Esquimalt for many years."

A motion that Hon. John Oliver be invited to come to Esquimalt and give his view on the redistribution matter was turned down, an amendment that the reply of the Premier to the resolution passed at the meeting be awaited, being passed instead.

Cut it in two and give us half and the rest to Ladyamith. But why pick on Esquimalt, which was a constituency long before Cowichan and Ladyamith were thought of?"

Whether or not this is a political move, and I don't say that it is, is no reason why Esquimalt should lose its identity. This matter affects the whole country. The country districts of the constituency do not want to go in with Cowichan, while the urban part does not want to join Victoria. Esquimalt has a good case. It is making progress and going forward," concluded Mr. Pooley, amid loud applause.

Cut it in two and give us half and the rest to Ladyamith. But why pick on Esquimalt, which was a constituency long before Cowichan and Ladyamith were thought of?"

Whether or not this is a political move, and I don't say that it is, is no reason why Esquimalt should lose its identity. This matter affects the whole country. The country districts of the constituency do not want to go in with Cowichan, while the urban part does not want to join Victoria. Esquimalt has a good case. It is making progress and going forward," concluded Mr. Pooley, amid loud applause.

Reeve Lockley, in seconding the motion, stated that the rural and urban districts of Esquimalt had never quarrelled but had worked and progressed well together. From a municipal standpoint, the reeve foresaw difficulties that might hamper Esquimalt if it were represented by men who also represented Victoria and Oak Bay. He said that Esquimalt might have a bill that would not be in common with Victoria presented to the House. Esquimalt would expect the support of the four members who also represented Victoria. But the city might not favor the bill and would tell their members so. What would be the result? There might be 1,400 votes in Esquimalt, to 14,000 in Victoria, and as we see politicians nowadays, it is practically certain that they would hear Victoria's call first," Reeve Lockley argued.

COUNCILOR Nicol, Mr. W. Miller Higgs and others addressed the meeting, each supporting the motion. Mr. Higgs brought cheers and prolonged applause when he stated that "we have been faithfully served by our member, Mr. Pooley, in Esquimalt for many years."

A motion that Hon. John Oliver be invited to come to Esquimalt and give his view on the redistribution matter was turned down, an amendment that the reply of the Premier to the resolution passed at the meeting be awaited, being passed instead.

GIANT PLAYS ROLE OF ARMY IN 'WHY WORRY?'

Harold Lloyd's Latest Farce is at the Dominion Theatre for Another Week—Hundreds Turned Away

Six reels of pure farce at its cleverest and funniest—that's "Why Worry?" playing another week at the Dominion Theatre. Last night the film was shown to a packed house, many not being able to secure admission. It is all about one of those revolutions that explode every once in a while in South America, but that means that there is a full measure of romance and adventure, of thrills and suspense. Richard Dix plays the role of a doctor, and Harold Lloyd plays the role of a man who is writing such tales as this, so did O. Henry.

It tells a story of Harold Lloyd, a rich young idler, who kept himself and a corps of doctors and nurses busy taking care of his health, which was perfect, but, having nothing to do but think about himself, he imagined he had everything except a smallpox.

So he sought health and quiet seclusion in the tropics. With him went his nurse, a girl named Mary, who was putting her heart into her work, especially her heart—into her work. When asked to feel Harold's pulse, her own pulse beat more rapidly than his, for she was in love with him.

Their destination was Paradise, which had been a drowsy city in a dreamy land until Jim Blake, renegade, saw some easy money in overthrowing the government. His outlaw forces had just taken possession of the town when Harold, innocent of the horror of revolution he was getting into, was wheeled ashore. He was speedily arrested and put in the same cell with Colosso, a giant hermit who had a toothache. He broke jail and Harold succeeded in pulling the giant's tooth. Thereafter the grateful Colosso attempted to anticipate Harold's every wish.

The nurse, fleeing from the amorous advances of Blake, disguised herself in the native attire of a boy and hid in a hut. When Harold found her he scolded her for playing around in boys' clothes when she should have been looking after his precious health. Naturally she was furious and let him know it. He was in the midst of admiring her beautiful, flashing brown eyes when Blake entered and recognized the nurse. In spite of her disguise. To the surprise of the sick man he gave the revolutionist a terrible whipping and found that he really enjoyed protecting the girl.

By ruse and strategy, Harold, the giant and the nurse routed the revolutionists, and so busy was he that he forgot his heart and his nerves and refused, for the first time, to take his pills. With much satisfaction he discovered his own case—he was in love with his nurse. As she was a fellow-sufferer, they got married and lived happily till the end of the film.

PAPYRUS STARRS IN BRITISH PRODUCTION

"Son of Kissing Cup" is Attraction at Capitol Theatre This Week—Derby Is Featured

Those who enjoy a good racing drama will be rewarded by visiting the Capitol this week and seeing "Son of Kissing Cup," the latest British production now being shown at the popular theatre. The picture abounds in good thrilling melodrama and fast action. Papyrus, the wonder horse, is cast as "Son of Kissing Cup." The 1923 Derby at Epsom Downs is also featured in the production. This British picture contains a cast of unrivalled excellence, headed by Violet Hopson and Stewart Rome, two of England's foremost screen stars. Viola Wasterlain, the gifted young violinist, is presenting an entirely new programme of solos which is one of the hits of this week's bill.

"WITHIN THE LAW" IS EXCELLENT PHOTOPLAY

"Within the Law," which began an engagement at the Royal Theatre last night, makes even more secure the leadership of Norma Talmadge as a dramatic star.

A classic of the American stage, in which Jane Cowie made her biggest hit, this Bayard Veltier play is now a classic of the silent drama, with Norma Talmadge winning fresh laurels. Love, romance and thrills combine to make it as fascinating and as exciting as a motion picture can be. Much credit, of course, must go to the genius of the director, Frank Lloyd, and to the splendid support of an unusually fine cast.

Norma Talmadge, in the role of Mary Turner, a department store girl railroaded to prison for a theft she did not commit, is a heart-stirring figure. On the completion of her prison term she vows to "get square" with the store owner, who was responsible for this miscarriage of justice, but determines to stay always "within the law."

Thus does she become the head of an organized band of blackmailers and home breakers and entraps Dick Glider, the son of the merchant, only to learn that she herself loves the young man.

A most piquant endeavor to get Joe Garson, accomplice of Mary Turner, into a trap to rob the Glider home. Though Mary refuses to go into the affair, she knows that it is "outside the law," Garson goes ahead with the plan.

She follows to prevent the robbery. The son, Dick Glider, is horrified to see Mary, whom he had secretly married, with these crooks. The stool pigeon becomes terrified and is about to blow his whistle for the police when Garson shoots him. Mary stays on the scene with her husband, but the others flee. The police inspector doubts Mary's story and orders the shooting in defence of his own home. He has them

PRISONERS ESSAY DASH TO SIBERIA

ICE DRIVES CRAWFORD AND KNIGHT BACK TO SHORE

Threat of Starvation Alarms Wrangel Island Captives—First Attempt made to Escape

By Harold Moore, Leader Wrangel Island Rescue Expedition

(Copyright 1923 by U.S. and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance)

The temperature dropped. The blue surface of the sea froze over. The pack ice came in from the north again. Wrangel Island was locked once more in the grip of winter. The beacon lantern swinging from its high pole went out. No one bothered to fill it. There was no use. No ship could reach them now.

Ada Blackjack was morose and depressed for a while after the last glimmer of hope of a ship had faded, but later she settled back into the routine of life. Though there is still little indication that the marooned expedition realized the desperate situation, the boys began to discuss various ways of escape. That optimism, born of inexperience, which had possessed them from the beginning, still held them.

The food stores diminished. Fresh meat became more and more of a luxury. Since August nothing had remained of their supply of civilized food but hardtack and tea. Their regular daily fare had been reduced to hardtack and seal oil. But always they thought tomorrow would bring better luck.

Knights records the capture of an occasional seal, and now and then a polar bear walks into camp and fills the empty stew-pot.

On October 25, Knight's diary shows his elation over the arrival of such an event:

Temporary Respite

"Everything comes to him who waits or goes after it. At 7 a.m. the dog set up a howl and Crawford rushed out. There, about a hundred feet or less west of the tent stood a female bear and two cubs. Crawford killed them all. The mystery is how they got so close to camp. There was there. If one can go by 'hunches,' my 'hunch' tells me that V. Stefanon did not come north this summer, and that we are doing the right thing in making this trip.

A 'hunch' that proved correct. Due to financial difficulties, Mr. Stefanon's contemplated expedition did not materialize.

Again, instead of building houses of driftwood, the boys, when they moved to the new camp, merely put up their flimsy tents.

They were settled in the new quarters by the middle of November. Knight writes:

On November 23 Knight writes:

"Am feeding the dogs on bear-skin and blubber. Crawford and I intend starting south as soon as possible. The dog feed is about gone and the sooner we start the sooner we will be able to get to open water and seals. Snowing and warm."

By the middle of December Knight and Crawford had definitely decided to try to reach Siberia, leaving Galle and Maurer behind with Ada.

On December 18 appears this notation:

"The woman is about finished making our clothing and we (Crawford and I) are in hopes of getting started for Siberia within ten days, at least before the first of the year."

Christmas Back Again

Just before Christmas the snow had hardened sufficiently to be cut into blocks, and Crawford began roofing the tents. Knight, in his diary, says, under date of December 21, that he is "under the weather" and unable to help with the work. He speaks of his sickness merely as indigestion, but it probably was the beginning of the disease which was ultimately to devour his strong body.

The passage of Christmas, celebrated so gaily the year before, was scarcely marked. There were no potatoes or bread. Even the coffee was long since gone. Worse than that, they had run out of tobacco. Hard bread, walrus skin and seal oil made up their Christmas feast. The hard bread was now being doled out on strictest ration.

Christmas Eve

"Although my diary shows December 23, it is Christmas Eve by the diaries of the others, and we are celebrating by having an extra hard bread or so apiece. The snow roof was completed today, excepting the door, and it is nice and comfortable in here tonight. Calm, very cloudy and snow."

Start for Siberia

Convinced, at last, that if they remained on the island the entire party would starve to death before spring, Crawford and Knight made their break for the outside world on January 7. They took with them the five dogs, fastened into a new set of harness which Knight had made, and enough rations to last them for thirty days. For themselves they had a meagre supply of hard bread and seal blubber and for the dogs a little dried meat and four sealkins to feed the animals when the meat should be exhausted. Their load weighed 700 pounds. They calculated that in thirty days they could reach Siberia and get food for themselves and help for their companions on Wrangel.

From the first the trip seemed doomed to failure. They were starting at the very worst time of the year. They planned to travel most of the time by moonlight because the light was better. Their sleds were weak, their dogs half starved, Knight, though he had confided his fears only due south, over fine going and made good time. We traveled just one hour when we hit broken up young ice with soft snow in between. The moon was a quarter on the wane and was slightly misty. We traveled for two and a half hours east, along the edge of the rough ice. After numerous tip overs, because of increasing darkness, we camped. We are now about six miles east of camp and a mile off shore. Our load is heavy and our dogs soft, so we will go in to the beach tomorrow, and travel east along it, until we find an opportunity to go south on good going. Cold mist and strong breeze from the east. We lost one of our picks and a pot lid. Rather a bad start."

Rough Ice Bars Path

The second day out Knight records that the going was wonderful, with the ice as hard as concrete and very little snow. But on the third day both men were so badly "done up" that they accomplished nothing.

On January 10, from their third camp, Knight writes:

"Broke camp early this morning and started due south. A short way from the beach we unexpectedly hit soft snow and I had to get into harness with the dogs. About two miles off shore we again came to the edge of the rough ice, which was impossible for the poor team and weak sled. The going ahead looked bad, and as we have only five dogs in very poor condition it is needless to say that it is going to be difficult. Unless we get started soon I'm afraid that we will have to go back to the main camp, and then go west and look for a way through the rough ice in that direction."

Two days later, still writing at the main camp where the day before they had been storm-bound, Knight says:

"Broke camp at 9:30 a.m. and traveled until 11:30. We first went south to the pressure ridge, and from the top of this saw smooth ice running east and west. We made a road through several hundred feet of rubble ice, got to the smooth ice, and found it to be a bad lead that had opened up some time the day before. It was covered with young ice and drifted snow and looked like solid ice to us when he started for it. Going to the east, so far as we could see, was practically impossible for us, with the five dogs and sled, and so we decided to go back to solid ice and camp, which we did."

Pushed Back to Wrangel

"We built a snow wall and put on a tarpaulin top. Both primus stoves are plugged and Crawford had to work with them several hours. At last we got one of them working after a fashion. There doesn't seem to be a chance to get to the mainland now."

"Crawford and I have been racking our brains on the best thing to do. Matters stand thus: We have only five dogs, we are sick and do not have a great deal of provisions. The ice is so bad that we cannot travel to sea or to open water, where we might secure seals. I am nearly all in. If I had to admit this, but I am sure I cannot help it. My soury has been coming back for the last month. When we started I was in hopes of getting fairly good going and a chance to get fresh meat, but my legs go back on me in this rough ice, for I am forced to get in the harness to help the dogs."

It was in this makeshift shelter of canvas and snow on the ice off Cape Hailu, their stove heatless, finger-tips and toes already frost-bitten, that Knight, hourly growing weaker and weaker, conceded defeat, and, sick at heart, reluctantly abandoned his hope of leaving Wrangel Island. It was decided that they should attempt a return to their companions in the main camp. They did not know of the perils in store for them.

No Reason to Regret

Canada Radio Policy

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, British Postmaster-General, and Hon. George P. Graham had a conference today on the subject of the Imperial wireless chain.

In regard to the difficulties which have arisen in connection with the establishment of some of the British stations, Mr. Graham took the view that these were entirely a domestic matter for Great Britain to deal with. So far as Canada was concerned he had given a licence to the Marconi Company and saw no reason for a change in policy.

Lame Japanese Vessel

To Come to Esquimalt

SEATTLE, Nov. 5.—The tug Humacoma was today bound to Dutch Harbor, on the north side of Unalaska Island in the Aleutians, to bring to Esquimalt, B.C., the Japanese freighter Shinkoku Maru, which Thursday reported from 100 miles south of Unimak Island that she had broken her propeller shaft and was helpless.

The Humacoma, which left here last night, was expected to reach Esquimalt the first week in December with the Shinkoku, which was taken to Dutch Harbor by the United States coastguard cutter Albatross.

The Albatross was on her way to Puget Sound from her last trip to the Behring Sea when she was diverted to the aid of the Shinkoku by wireless orders.

Liquor Valued at $375,000 Seized—Crew Declared Themselves Victims of Whisky Pirates

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 5.—The British auxiliary schooner Louis F. was captured after a three-hour chase at noon today by Federal authorities, and 2,900 cases of liquor, valued at $375,000, were seized, the officers reported on their return to night.

The schooner was within the twelve-mile limit off South Pablo Beach, Captain H. A. Johnson, of Harbor Island, B.W.I., and six men of the crew were arrested. They are being brought to Jacksonville, where they will be charged with violating the customs laws, and the national prohibition law, officers said.

The crew told a story of having been attacked last Tuesday morning by the second assistant engineer and two stowaways, one of whom was formerly the chief engineer. They were forced into the forecabin and kept there under guard until today. Their alleged captors, they said, went ashore today in dories when the Government pursuers were sighted.

Members of the crew, officers said, declared they put to sea under the belief the pursuers were liquor pirates.

MANILA CALL RESUMED BY CANADIAN PACIFIC

Pacific Business Picking Up—Empire Lines to Maintain Philippines Service in Spring

Better business on the Pacific is reflected by the decision of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd., to send its steamers into Manila again. The call at the Philippine port was dropped by the company in March of this year when commerce between the Orient and this side was at its lowest ebb, but now that ships are beginning to operate under more favorable conditions there is enough Manila business offering to warrant the resumption of the old schedule, it is believed. The reappearance of the Canadian vessels will be warmly welcomed at Manila, where they have always been favorites.

The first of the three-stackers to make the call will be the Empress of Russia, on her March 4 sailing from Vancouver and Victoria. The Russia and the Asia will thereafter maintain a monthly service to Manila. The Canada and the Australia will retain their present schedules. The former service was supplied by the Russia and Asia also.

Victorians to Sail

On First Panama Ship

When the big Atlantic liner Kronland sails from San Francisco on Saturday, inaugurating the resumed Pacific Coast and New York via Havana, she will have several Victorians aboard. Passengers who have booked so far include Miss Teresa Garsche, who is leaving via Seattle by the Admiral Dewey to make connections with the Kronland, and Mrs. E. M. Allwood. Both are going to Havana. Several others from this city will also be making the first voyage in the revived Canal service.

The master of the Kronland, Captain William J. Munro, is a fine example of the country youth with yearnings towards the sea who has reached his goal. He was born on a farm in Minnesota, but abandoned the plough at an early age, shipping on Lake steamers at Duluth, and later making his way to New York, where he caught on with the American Line in 1915. During the war he rose rapidly to his present position as master in the service of the International Mercantile Marine.

Grain Ships Aplenty Expected at Quebec

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—It is expected that enough ocean ships to load grain for export from this port until the close of navigation will be available and already ten ships, with more to follow, have been engaged. In addition to this, the biggest cargo of wheat that ever arrived in Quebec is expected to be here tomorrow on the barge Oakton, from Port Colborne, being 20,000 bushels of mixed No. 1 and No. 2 Northern wheat.

SKAGWAY SAILING

The Skagway, loading lumber for California at the Canadian Puget Sound wharf, is expected to sail tomorrow.

A Mammoth Walrus Tusk Which Lorne Knight Found on Wrangel Island.

very little blubber on any of them, and the old lady had a stomach full of grass. Incidentally all of us, dogs included, had a full stomach."

About this time they began moving their camp site to Doubtful Harbor, where there was a plentiful wood supply close at hand.

On November 1 Knight writes:

"The sea seems to be rather solid and we intend to start moving tomorrow. For a long time I have said nothing about our seamstress. She is very quiet and rather downhearted over the fact that the ship did not show up, but she keeps busy and at present making a pair of fancy moosehide mittens. There is considerable clothing to be made for Crawford and me if we go to Siberia, but we will not have her start until we get moved."

In the same entry Knight discusses the project which he and Crawford have been considering that of trying to get across the ice to Siberia and thence to Nome.

When the boys left Stefanon he was planning another Arctic expedition and had told them he might join them in the Summer of 1922. He had instructed them to lay up a large supply of dog meat for his use and to regard themselves as forerunners of this expedition. They thought that if they could get out to the mainland of Siberia they might find Stefanon or get word of him. In Knight's words:

"Crawford and I have just about made up our own minds to make the trip, and the time of starting depends on several things: ice conditions, dog feed, weather, etc., but we are hoping to get started about Jan. 15, 1923. We think if the weather is good and going on the ice not too bad, that Nome should be reached in 60 or 70 days, for we have about made up our minds to go to Nome instead of Anadyr Bay. We have thought that V. Stefanon might be wintering on the mainland north of us, and I think if he is we will see him by January 1. If he should not come till later we will have to take a chance and go, for very likely if he is wintering on the mainland we will hear of him and his ship and will go

Stomach Suffering

Disappears as if by magic when Jonnie is used. Gas pain, acid stomach, sour stomach, burning and all other distressing troubles relieved in two minutes. All drug stores.

"Crawford and I brought the remainder of the camp things down today, which leaves nothing at the other camp except a few scraps of skin and bones, which might come in handy later in the winter. There have been no signs of open water for some time, and unless a bear or two comes along soon the dogs are going to be pretty hungry."

Even the weather seemed to be hostile, for the lack of snow left them without snow blocks for roofing. Knight, lamenting this fact, adds:

"However, we have a good stove and plenty of wood. We huddle about the stove and try to find topics for conversation. The stove is a cheap wood range and has been going steadily for fourteen months, but except for a few replacements in the fire box, is as good as new."

The diary entries during November and December are brief. They contain chiefly the weather reports and meagre accounts of trapping, with which the explorers had little luck.

ALL JAPAN ORDERS GO TO SAME FIRM, LUMBERMEN PROTEST

SEATTLE, Nov. 5.—(Continuation of the Japanese Govt. order for lumber through the Douglas Fir Exploitation & Export Company exclusively led the Pacific Lumber Exporters' Association to file a protest with the United States Department of Commerce. It was learned here today. The protest produced little or no effect, it was said.

Ship's Oiler Killed By Fall at Genoa Bay

A man named Jackson, employed as an oiler aboard the steamer Chitchea, met death Sunday morning at Genoa Bay when he tumbled down a bluff behind the Chitchea and broke his neck. Although there were no witnesses of the accident, little doubt exists as to the nature of it. The man had left the ship and was seen to have climbed to the top of the high cliff behind the mill with the intention of securing photographs of the vessel and her surroundings. In some unaccountable manner he apparently lost his footing and slipped to his death. When workers at the mill found his body later, life was extinct. He is understood to have been an American. The ship, which flies the United States flag, reached Genoa Bay last week to load lumber for New York.

Small Vessels Plying North Despite Winter

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 5.—Though navigation has formally closed here for the winter, the Victoria and the Buford have left on their last trips of the season, small craft continued today to ply between Nome and the Gulf of Alaska. The weather remained warm, and rain was falling yesterday. Dredges continued to operate, taking gold from creeks. The roads were more muddy than in summer time.

The gasoline schooner Bonadon, which had been carrying United States mail between Nome and St. Michaels, 125 miles south, was seen at the mouth of the Yukon River, left Thursday for Seattle. She was to go to Cordova and to take the inside passage south. She carried passengers for points en route.

Oil Geyser Spouts Island to Surface From Bottom of Sea

BAKU, Azerbaijan, Nov. 5.—Due probably to shifting strata in the Caspian Sea an unusual phenomenon in oil wells was noticed recently near here. A geyser began erupting oil, two miles off the seacoast, and during two hours of activity spurted at a height of seventy feet, throwing off stones as well as oil. The eruption was accompanied by flames. A small island formed when the geyser died down.

WRECK SURVIVOR KICKS OFF SHARK AND REACHES SHORE

NESTUCCA, Ore., Nov. 5.—The power launch Venus, from Portland, was capsized and wrecked by a huge comb when she attempted to enter the bay here today. Captain Adolph Kongler, her master, and Olaf Howman, engineer, leaped overboard and after a desperate struggle through the surf, reached shore. Captain Kongler said that while he was in the water some sort of fish, presumably a shark, seized him by the right foot, but he struggled free. The lower part of his shoe was torn away. The Venus lost her house and was washed ashore. It was thought she could be salvaged.

WEST COAST CLAIMS LUMBER-LADEN SCOW

Stranded Barge Beyond Reach of
Tug—Identity of Both Craft
Unknown Here

The lumber-laden scow thrown ashore near Carmanah, west coast of Vancouver Island, on Saturday, was still hard and fast yesterday, according to reports to the Gonzales wireless station last night. Indications pointed to the complete loss of the barge, as it was already holed in the stern and the rough water off the beach made it impossible for the tug standing by to get alongside. It would be impossible to get the scow in any case save at high tide, the messages said. The ownership of the scow and the identity of the tug are both unknown here. It is regarded as likely that the barge, blown in from the American side of the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

CANADIAN ROVER TOUCHES BOTTOM

The C.G.M.M. steamer Canadian Rover, bound from Vancouver for Ocean Falls, touched bottom yesterday morning in Discovery Passage. From Duncan Bay, where she dropped anchor, the ship was towed to the beach, reported at 11:50 a.m. that the ship was leaking, but slightly only, on the forepeak. She is expected to proceed to Prince Rupert.

Japanese Crew Saved From Wrecked Vessel

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The Japanese fishing schooner Indonesia was lost off the coast of Emsanda today, but the crew was saved. The ship was bound from San Pedro, and was caught in a heavy gale that swept the craft ashore. The schooner was sixty feet long and was valued at $3,500.

RUTH ARRIVES

The Admiral coastwise liner Ruth Alexander arrived from Seattle, B.C., Los Angeles and San Francisco last night during the night, with fifty passengers and some cargo for Victoria. She proceeded to Seattle later in the night.

FOUR CHILDREN FALL VICTIM TO FLAMES

Outbreak at Edmonton Results in Four Deaths—Twelve Families
Are Rendered Homeless

EDMONTON, Nov. 5.—Four children were burned to death in a fire which broke out in the west end of the city at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning and leveled to the ground the Mount Rose, a three-story apartment of heavy board and stucco, as well as consuming all the effects of the twelve families that rushed from the burning building in their nightclothes. The dead are: Edith Campbell, aged 15; Alice Campbell, aged 13, both daughters of Charles Campbell, the janitor; and Arthur Ross, 12, and Nell Ross, 10, the two boys being guests of their uncle. Eva Campbell, aged 10, lies in the hospital suffering from burns about the hands and arms, part of her hair being burned off her head as well. While her father carried his wife and baby to safety, she crawled out of an upper window on to the roof, and a thrilling rescue was effected by Mr. J. F. Thompson, a Supreme Court clerk, who had occupied with his wife and two children. Mrs. Albert A. Richards also was heroically rescued from the upper portion of the burning building by Mr. E. J. Hart, a nearby resident, who was early on the scene and brought his own ladder. By the time the firemen arrived dense smoke and fire bursting from the upper windows beat them back as they strove to save the two boys, who were caught in an upper room. Fire spread to dwellings on either side and burned the upper story of two homes. Buildings across the street were in danger at one stage and Christ Church was among the buildings that caught fire from flying brands.

Bulgaria Arranges With Jugo-Slavia

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 5.—Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia have reached an agreement in principle on all the disputes between them, by Bulgaria's offer of 300,000,000 leva ($17,000,000 at the normal rate of exchange) being accepted. The negotiations between the two countries, which mainly concerned military requisitions during the war, were suspended because of the attack by three armed men on the Jugo-Slavia military attaché, Colonel Krastich, here last Friday, but there has been no rupture in diplomatic relations, and Jugo-Slavia is not expected to pursue the incident further.

You'll never go back to the old fashioned pencil or pen

Eversharp for speed, for hard work, for permanent release from common pencil faults. Other pencils seem disappointing once you have used Eversharp. No other pencil can be like it—Eversharp's features can't be copied.

Eversharp's perfect balance makes it a comfortable pencil to hold. And it is a pleasing pencil with which to write. The lead never wobbles—the exclusive ruffled tip holds it firm. You always know the length of lead—the automatic index tells you. And you find extra leads and the handy eraser under the cap. Two Eversharps are useful when you have colored lead in one.

The all-metal Wahl Pen is outstanding among fountain pens. It is a remarkable improvement. It can neither crack nor split. The all-metal barrel holds more ink. Wahl Pen is beautiful, durable. It will last a lifetime.

Buy both, matched in gold or silver. Eversharp, $1 to $10; Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices. Look for the name on the pencil and the pen. See also the Wahl rubber pens, $2.75 up.

MILLS COULD NOT STAND HOUR CUT

COSTS OF EQUIPMENT ARE HIGHER HERE

Eight-Hour Day Would Harm Important Industry, Claim of Canadian Puget Sound Mill

The present condition of the lumber industry will not permit of any reduction in the number of working hours in sawmills, as is said to be proposed in Provincial Government legislation to be brought down at the present session, Mr. John I. Kinsinger, manager of the local mill of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Company, informed The Colonist yesterday.

"We have about 250 employees in the plant," explained Mr. Kinsinger. "While we are working only nine hours a day at present, the usual period is ten hours. If eight hours is made compulsory, it will mean the loss each day of the amount of work which one man could do in 100 hours. While the mills are cutting a considerable amount of lumber at the present time, it is a fortunate concern that is making money, and in view of that fact, any compulsory reduction in the number of hours would work a great hardship upon an important industry."

"It should not be forgotten that British Columbia mills are compelled to pay more for their equipment than those in the States, and the plants, generally speaking, are not capable of being operated with the same efficiency. Any reduction in hours would give us a further disadvantage. "Conditions at our plant would not permit two eight-hour shifts being worked. We couldn't get the men if we wanted them. But an eight-hour day will not allow us to get out the lumber fast enough. There must be flexibility in the hours to suit such conditions as arise."

DELEGATION WAITS ON PREMIER OLIVER

President of Esquimalt Liberals and Small Committee Take Up Question of Elimination

Yesterday morning a delegation from the Esquimalt Liberal Association waited upon Premier Oliver for the purpose of discussing with him the situation relative to the reported elimination of the electoral district which the redistribution question comes before the Legislature. The delegation was headed by Mrs. Campbell, the president of the association. In view of the fact that the matter is not yet before the Legislature the proceedings before the Premier is regarded as private by the delegation.

CONSERVATIVES OF OAK BAY MEET

Annual Gathering of Party in Eastern Suburbs Takes Place Friday in St. Mary's Hall

The annual meeting of the Oak Bay Liberal-Conservative Association will be held at St. Mary's Hall next Friday evening, November 7. In making this announcement yesterday, Capt. H. W. R. Moore, the president of the association, expressed the hope that there would be a large attendance of the Oak Bay supporters of the party, as not only will the officers and executive for the ensuing year, a year which promises to be an eventful one from a political point of view, be chosen, but special efforts are being made to ensure an entertaining as well as an interesting evening.

The exact programme will be announced in the press later on in the week, but in the meantime Capt. Moore stated that the Hon. J. H. Bowser, leader of the Opposition, had promised to be there and give an address, and had also agreed to bring with him some of the Conservative members of the Legislature, from whom interesting accounts of the political situation on the Mainland might be expected.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY BILL

Chamber of Commerce Director Would Have No Change Made in Present Status of Labor

Acknowledgments received from Hon. Mr. John Oliver, Premier, members of his Cabinet, and various members of Parliament, of the resolution recently forwarded to them by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, condemning the bill before the Legislature to enforce an eight-hour day law in the Province, were read at the weekly luncheon of that body yesterday. Vigorous protest against the passing of the bill or any action which would change the present status of industrial labor, was entered by Mr. J. O. Cameron, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Explaining his stand he stated that limitation of hours of work would incur serious hardship to industry in all parts of the Province at a time when industrial prosperity was well in sight.

Mr. J. B. Clearidge, Liberal member for Victoria, stated in his letter of acknowledgment his belief that the proposed eight-hour day measure was drawn in a manner which he thought would be satisfactory to all concerned. Mr. J. Hinchcliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, asserted that he looked upon the proposed bill with favor, and until he could be given proof of potential ill-effects following its enforcement, he would not change his opinion. He believed that it would prove a benefit as a whole.

SPRING SALMON IN ONTARIO

A Pacific Spring salmon has been found in the River Credit, which flows into Lake Ontario, between Toronto and Hamilton. The incident has caused some old-timers to recall the days when Atlantic salmon appeared in many of the streams tributary to Lake Ontario. How the Spring salmon, of Pacific origin, reached the Ontario stream is not stated.

Victoria and Islands Branch of Club Has Strong Membership—Plans for Canadian Book Week

This, the third year of the Canadian Authors' Association, has seen the Victoria and Islands branch thoroughly established. All of the members are very zealous for the advancement of the club, and work wholeheartedly toward that end. The monthly meetings are always most interesting, and invariably prove a help and a stimulus to the writers themselves. The programmes are diversified, featuring a talk from some visiting writer, as a rule; the reading and critiquing of short articles submitted for that purpose by the members; and general discussion of literary subjects.

When the Canadian Authors' Association was formed it was the intention to have the Mainland branch include Victoria and the islands. Through the efforts of the late Miss Marjorie Pickthill and N. deBertrand Lugin a separate branch was formed covering this part of British Columbia, with one of its members acting as vice-president of the parent organization. The membership of the Victoria and Islands branch now includes not only Victoria writers, but writers in Courtenay, Duncan, Nanaimo and adjacent islands, as well as the municipalities and neighboring islands. This year has seen a substantial increase in the membership. Those belonging to the organization number regular members, that is, those who are actively engaged in writing and in publishing copyright material; those who are interested in the objects of the association, writers, artists, composers, publishers, book-sellers, but who are not considered by the executive committee as qualified for full membership; and local adherents who, while not following the profession of writing, are in sympathy with the aims of the organization.

Member Moves to Vancouver
Miss Rene Norcross, one of the chapter members of the association, left the city on the first of November to take up her residence in Vancouver. She will be greatly missed by the Authors' Club, of which she has always been a most enthusiastic worker. In this respect Victoria's loss is Vancouver's gain. Miss Norcross will transfer her membership to the Mainland branch. The Canadian Magazine is publishing shortly two stories by Miss Norcross, which are an interesting and forceful writer.

Arrangements are well in hand now for the issuing of the Christmas Annual. This interesting volume includes contributions from all of the regular members who care to send in an essay, poem or short story. Last year three copies of the Annual were made, one of which was sent to the parent organization in Ottawa, and which received very high praise.

Another most amusing feature this year is the writing of a composite story, each one of the members add-

GYROS SEE WONDERS AT LOCAL SAWMILL

Club Luncheon at Canadian Puget Sound Plant—Last Month's Cut Is Record

"Here is something that could beat Dempsey!" It was the exclamation of a member of the Gyro Club yesterday at noon as he stood in the mill of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Company and watched huge iron arms rise up and shove, butt and pull large logs around, seemingly without effort.

Fascinated, the young men observed this display of ingenuity and power, picking up from the company officials who were their guides the technical terms such as "nigger," "kicker" and "log turner." The handling of the logs just after they crawled slowly up from the waters of the Inner Harbor was only one of the interesting sights seen by the Gyros, who held their weekly luncheon at the mill, and were shown over the plant afterwards by the officials.

A box luncheon was served in the upper story of one of the mill buildings, and there Gyro Jim Cawston, who is connected with the company, introduced the other officials. Mr. H. Bly, treasurer of the company, briefly welcomed the visitors, declared that his firm's policy was "Victoria First," and expressed a hope that the Gyros would do their utmost to assist in the city's development. The Gyros then divided up into parties and were shown over the mill.

Construction of the new shingle mill and dry kilns adjacent to the present buildings is already under way. The four machines will have a capacity of 120,000 shingles in a nine-hour day, while about thirty men will be employed. Mr. J. D. Kinsinger, manager of the company, said that he hoped to have the mill running by the first of the year. The lease of the foreman desired by the company in connection with the new mill has not yet been secured, but work is proceeding in anticipation of this.

SCHOOL CONCERT WAS UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

Children's Chorus, Drills and Dances Were Features of Entertainment in Local School

A crowded auditorium greeted the performers last Friday evening when a concert was given in the George Jay School, and when the programme had been completed everybody voted the affair a great success. Mr. George Jay, chairman of the School Board, officiated as director.

The programme included a vocal duet by Meadames Walker and Morton, and selections by a quartette composed of Meadames Walker and Morton and Messrs. Dunder and Edmund. The offerings brought much applause from the audience. Mrs. Mary McCoy Jameson's clear soprano voice was heard to great advantage in "Doom the Barn David Lads." Mr. Christopher Bartone, rendered a very pleasing solo. School children, under the direction of the principal, Mr. Muncie, demonstrated with careful teaching and their enthusiasm in their chorus work, and drills and group dances. Miss Annie Sharp, accompanied by Major Donald Cameron, charmed the audience with her dancing of the Highland fling, and Major Cameron stirred the blood of the Scots in the audience with a fiery pipe solo. Miss Jeanette Miller showed real elocutionary talent, and the instrumental selection given by a quartette composed of Messrs. Halsey, J. Halsey, W. Irwin and J. Townsend, was a genuine musical treat. In between numbers, selections were given by Christopher's ten-piece orchestra.

OLD ENGLAND FORMS THEME FOR ARTISTS

Paintings by Taiton Winter, R.B.A., and A. Parker Showing Here

Many charming bits of old England are depicted in the collection of water colors which are being shown throughout the present week at Fletcher Brothers' music store on Douglas Street. General of the pictures are from the brush of Mr. Taiton Winter, R.B.A., a well-known English artist, and others are by Mr. A. E. Strutt, who has exhibited in the Royal Academy for a number of years. Two Victoria artists, Mr. Arthur Parker, whose work is well known here, and Mrs. Arthur Paget, a miniaturist who has exhibited on several occasions, are also represented in the interesting collection.

Taiton Winter's paintings are entirely of scenes in England, among them being "King's College Chapel, Cambridge," "The Land's Gate, Rye, Sussex," "A Typical English Farmhouse," "The Dungeon Steps, Farmham Castle, Surrey," "Bath Abbey, Somersetshire." There are sketches from the same brush, of Norfolk broads, some particularly appealing windmill and "windy" scenes so characteristic of Mr. Winter's style. Mr. Strutt has two charming subjects of the Welsh down and two pictures of North Devon scenes, one a charming wayside inn, another a country lane.

"The Month of May," by Mr. Parker, is one of his outstanding pieces of work, showing a portion of Beacon Hill Park. Scenes in the Canadian Rockies, a picture of Shaw Creek, Cowichan Lake, an illusive misty-morning scene near Trentham, England, Mirror Lake, Canadian Rockies, and a painting entitled "Midsummer Sunlight and Shadow" are among his other good work.

The exhibition opened yesterday morning for one week.

MOTORS ARE STRONG ON NEW YORK LIST

Volume of Trading Lighter Than Usual—Speculative Favorites Show Signs of Profit-Taking

(By British American Bond Corp., Ltd.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Today's stock market had just as strong a tone as during the past few days, but the volume was lighter, probably due to the holiday tomorrow. The strength, however, had shifted to the usually inactive list. Such stocks as Western Union, Delaware & Lackawanna, Coca Cola, public utility issues and such like monopolized the gains. The speculative favorites held well, however, but showed signs of profit-taking. Steel Common seems to be in good supply around 93, Baldwin around 124, and American at 99. The motor stocks as a group were probably the strongest, with Studebaker leading at a new high price for this movement. Sentiment was not so bullish at the close as account of the halting in stocks which have led the advance, but there still seems to be a fairly good-sized short interest. The close was fractionally below the day's best prices, with opinions about evenly divided.

Music in the Home

By Arthur Mason

The growing attachment to music of a large public who at one time were at no particular touch with the art—save in its more obvious aspects—will develop, especially, the music of the home. The concert, the opera, and other forms of public music which are firmly established among the social amenities of modern life will, doubtless, enjoy a greater patronage than ever by reason of the increasing musical public, but unquestionably it is the private music made by and listened to by individual home-keeping families and friends, which is likely to benefit most from the expanded interest in music of our day and generation.

Obviously, the music of the home reflects the measure and the calibre of the musical culture possessed by a people. The music of the home is, further, the most effective agency and influence towards the musical culture of a people. Music in the Home

By Arthur Mason

The growing attachment to music of a large public who at one time were at no particular touch with the art—save in its more obvious aspects—will develop, especially, the music of the home. The concert, the opera, and other forms of public music which are firmly established among the social amenities of modern life will, doubtless, enjoy a greater patronage than ever by reason of the increasing musical public, but unquestionably it is the private music made by and listened to by individual home-keeping families and friends, which is likely to benefit most from the expanded interest in music of our day and generation.
